LA SALLE eighty eight

Nikoli,

What's up dude, SSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSS!
It's all over, we're out of here! Good Luck in whatever you do in college times. Also good luck with your relationship, you guys look really good together, you got a good one there. I guess we're pretty lucky! You have to keep up ASA's identity in college so he won't go away. We have to come back next year and go to the softball games again because they can't win without us there cheering them on. You gotta Watch "Little "T" because that's one very inspired Little girl who might just chase you out. (she's cool). We gotta do some partying this summer and some beaching. Good Luck!

BEDAZZLING HAPPENINGS

Pope John Paul II visited the U.S. bringing a message of hope to the youth of this country. Representatives of La Salle along with students from St. Francis and Alverno attended a youth rally at Universal Amphitheater.

Centered in Whittier, a 6.3 earthquake woke up the Southland during a heatwave and with a series of after shocks with dubbed "Shake and Bake". School was dismissed for the day, until an engineering inspection was completed.

Coaches Moore and Cano lead their water polo and cross country teams to victory, as both become League Champs in '87.

Universal Studios filmed a segment of its new Fall series, "A Year in the Life" at La Salle. Television key grips and gaffers transformed Brother Roberts office Graduation proves a dazzling event in the sense that it is the culmination of four years at La Salle and also a beginning for the graduates. Take heart freshmen, the seniors are soon to be the "new kids on the block".

FACES

The La Salle student has many opportunities for enrichment. Each student is encouraged to utilize his gifts and talents in developing his potential in preparation not only for college, but for life itself. The curriculum is designed to permit the student to explore his religious, intellectual and physical potential. Following a college-preparatory program, the La Salle student has extensive course work in Religion, English, Social Studies, Mathematics, Science, and Foreign Language. Students may also pursue electives in all of these fields as well as in the fine arts and performing arts, business, computer science, and physical education. The total school experience comprises academic, religious, community and extracurricular aspects. Students are encouraged to get involved in co-curricular activities that include student government, honor societies, special interest clubs, and athletics.

Over 3000 young men have graduated from La Salle since 1960 and 94% of those graduates have gone on to college and to successful careers. Untold thousands around the world owe their education to the Christian Brothers, the largest teaching order of brothers in the Catholic Church. Founded in France in 1680 for the specific purpose of educating the young, some 10,000 Christian Brothers carry on the traditions of their founder, St. John Baptist de La Salle, in 80 countries today. Approximately 10,000 students are enrolled in Brothers' schools in the San Francisco Province.

THE CLASS OF 1988

Ordering caps and gowns, rehearsing the seniors, and marshalling graduation are just some of the duties of experienced senior moderators, Mrs. Rosalie Lopez and Mr. John Ring.

From summer planning of Freshmen Orientation to the final strains of the "Alma Mater" at Graduation, the senior class council put in many hours to assure a memorable year for the class of '88. Led by president Keith Johnson, senior officers included Gary Valdez, Jason Wooler, Ron Evans, Frank Martinez, and Justin Martinez.

DAZZLING JUNIORS WORK AND PLAY HARD

The Juniors have had their first taste as upperclassmen, and it's a sweet one. They enjoyed the privileges of off-campus lunch and picking on freshmen. Even though many think that the third year of high school is the hardest because of having courses like chemistry, trig., U.S. History and the like, they are having too much fun to complain. For them, this is the most exciting year. It is the year they receive class rings and have a chance to go to the Prom. The days are filled with excitement as well as hard work. Next year, they'll become the Seniors and leaders of the student body at La Salle.

To many sophomores, the cafeteria is much better than the library — you can study and eat junk food at the same time.

Since we cannot find an idle sophomore, Eric agreed to stand still for a little while so we can take his picture.

Steve made a major discovery in his textbook, but he had nobody to tell it to.

We cannot help wondering if the sophomores react to the final exams with the same enthusiasm as they did to the camera.

After a year of cafeteria food, the sophomores finally get tired of it. They rather just sit and talk.

Since he doesn't want to have his picture in the yearbook, we especially make sure we have a spot for him.

RAZZLE DAZZLERS SOPHS SHINE

As the former Freshmen accumulated a year of experience in La Salle, the Sophomores also start to accumulate more school work. This year, it seemed like Biology was everybody's nemesis. They learned about photosynthesis, cellular respiration, mitosis among other complicated topics — only to forget them during summer. Nevertheless, in midst of their busy lives, Sophomores take on more than the role of students in La Salle. They are atheletes, singers, musicians, actors; and most of all helpers. With all this participation and class cooperation, the Sophomores are ready to become upperclassmen.

BEDAZZLED FROSH GET THROUGH 1ST YEAR

Being a Freshman in the beginning may not be the best experience in the world. Adjusting to a new environment, meeting new people, getting used to the new subjects, exams, and of course the cafeteria food aren't the easiest things to do. But with a lot of intimidation by the older students and a little help from the faculty, the Freshmen fitted into the La Salle community just fine. In fact, the Freshmen were very active this year, partiipating in sports, concerts, masses, rallies, etc. Looks like they made a good start.

EVENTS

The usual changing of months, from August to September, brought about the coming of the new school year. The one thing that did not change was this summer's heat wave, that lasted way into the school year.

Seniors strode through Freshmen Orientation, in their first role as Seniors, with a great sense of confidence; while the Freshmen stumbled through their first official dance, the Senior sponsored Frosh Welcome Dance on September 18th. The Holy Spirit Mass presided over an other-wise typical Wednesday.

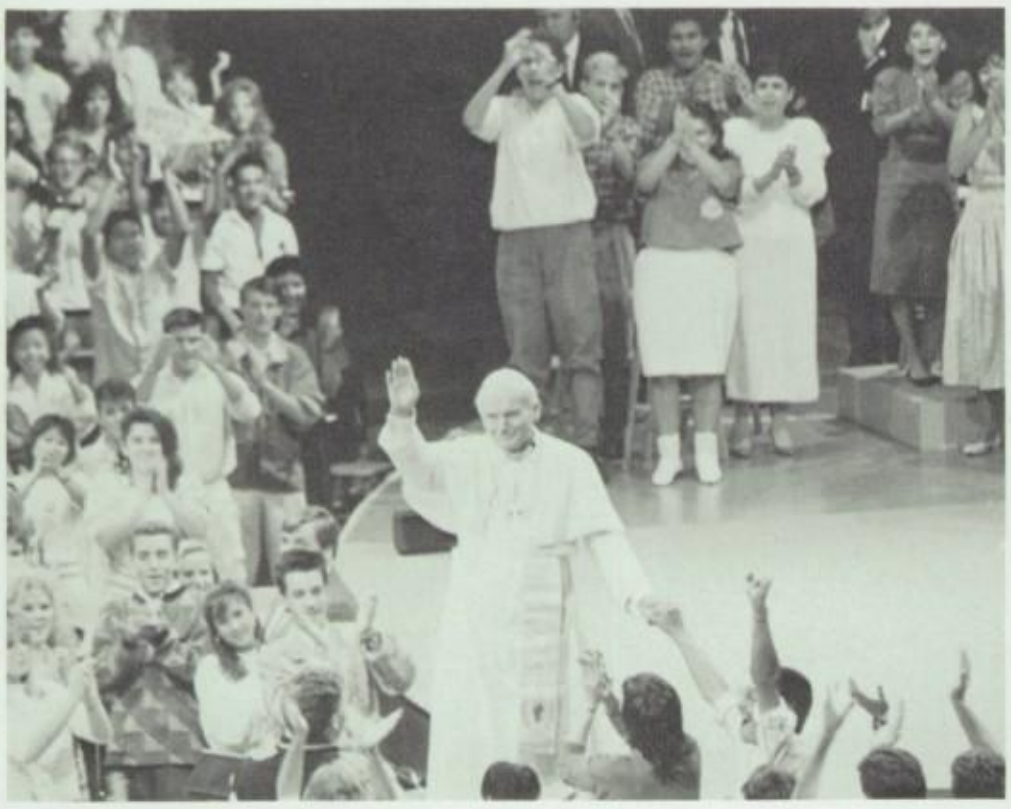
October brought about the Centurion ad drive, PSAT (and a Senior holiday), Mother-Son Communion Breakfast, and Halloween dress up day.

November brought the end of the 1st Quarter with exams and the annual Junior Ring Mass.

The jovial month of December included the Drama Department's "Charley's Aunt", the 1987 Snowball with Alverno, and what everyone was waiting for, Christmas vacation!

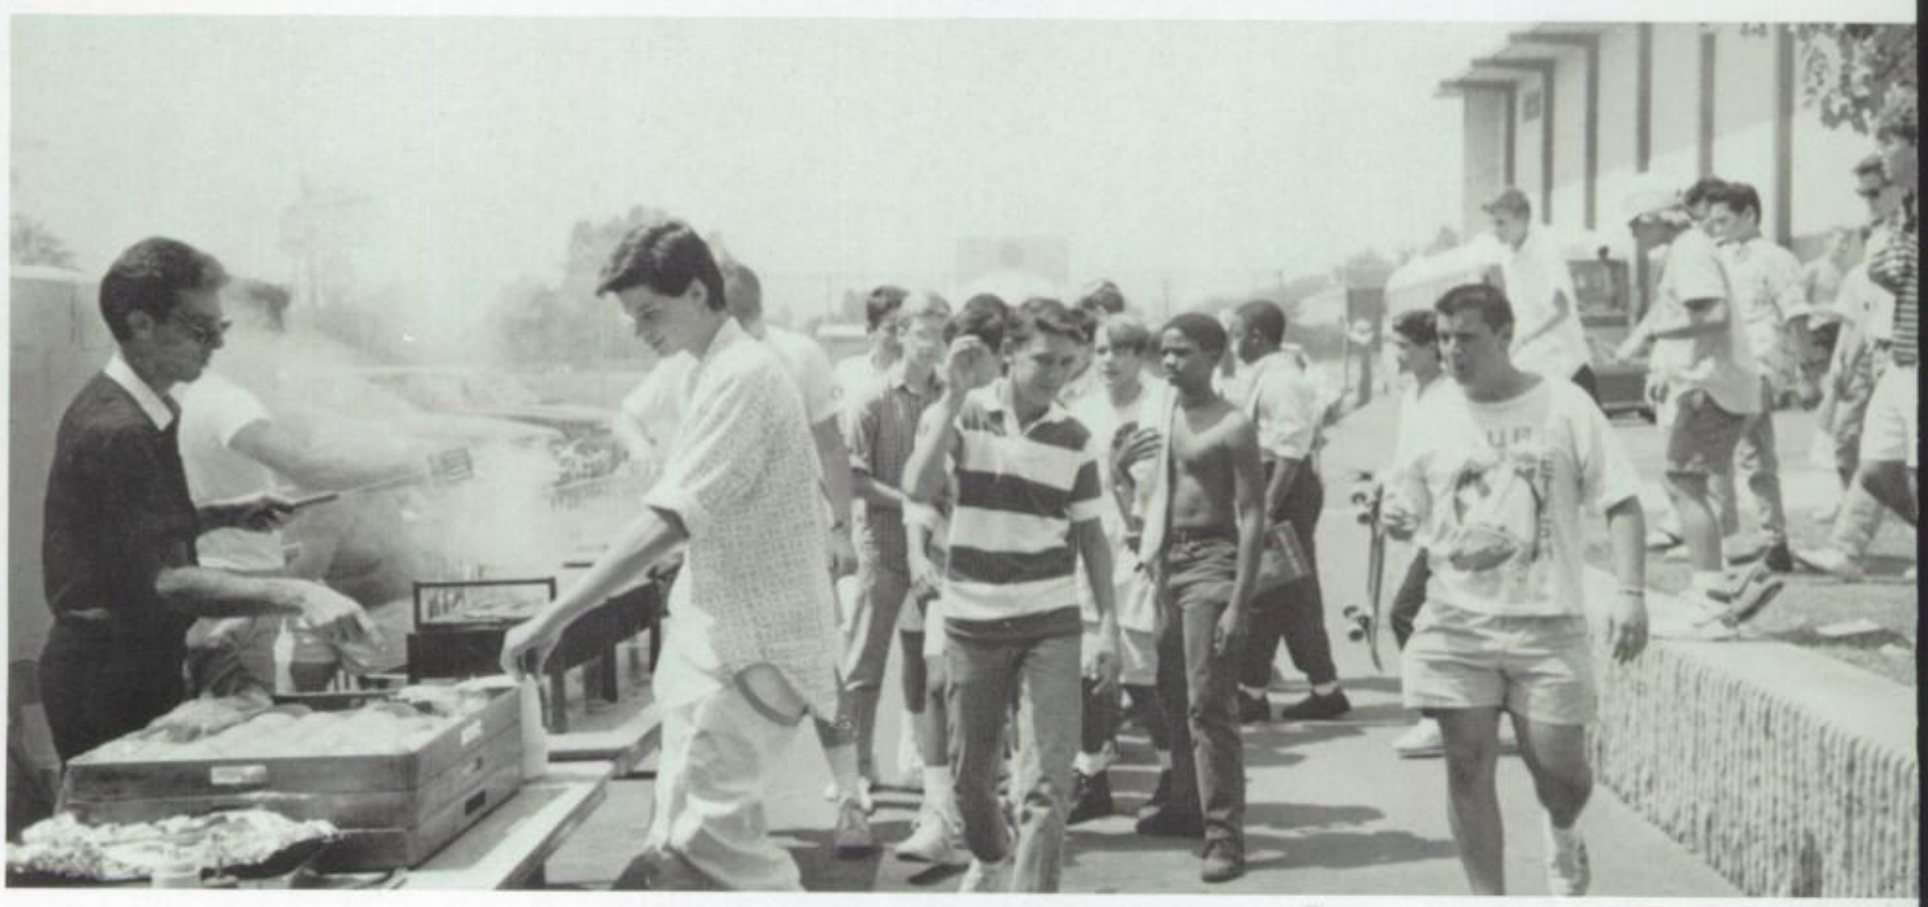
January, besides giving us a new year, brought a return to school, Martin Luther King's Observance, and Semester Exams.

Last but not least, the Grande Finale, the double whammy, La Salle's Prom and the Class of 1988's Graduation!! The Prom was held May 6th, 1988 at the Disneyland Hotel. This extravagently regal affair was the toast of the town, second only to the 32nd Annual Commencement Exercises held on La Salle's own grounds. These events proved to be the most talked about around campus and with the graduating Seniors.



SENIORS WELCOME CLASS OF '91

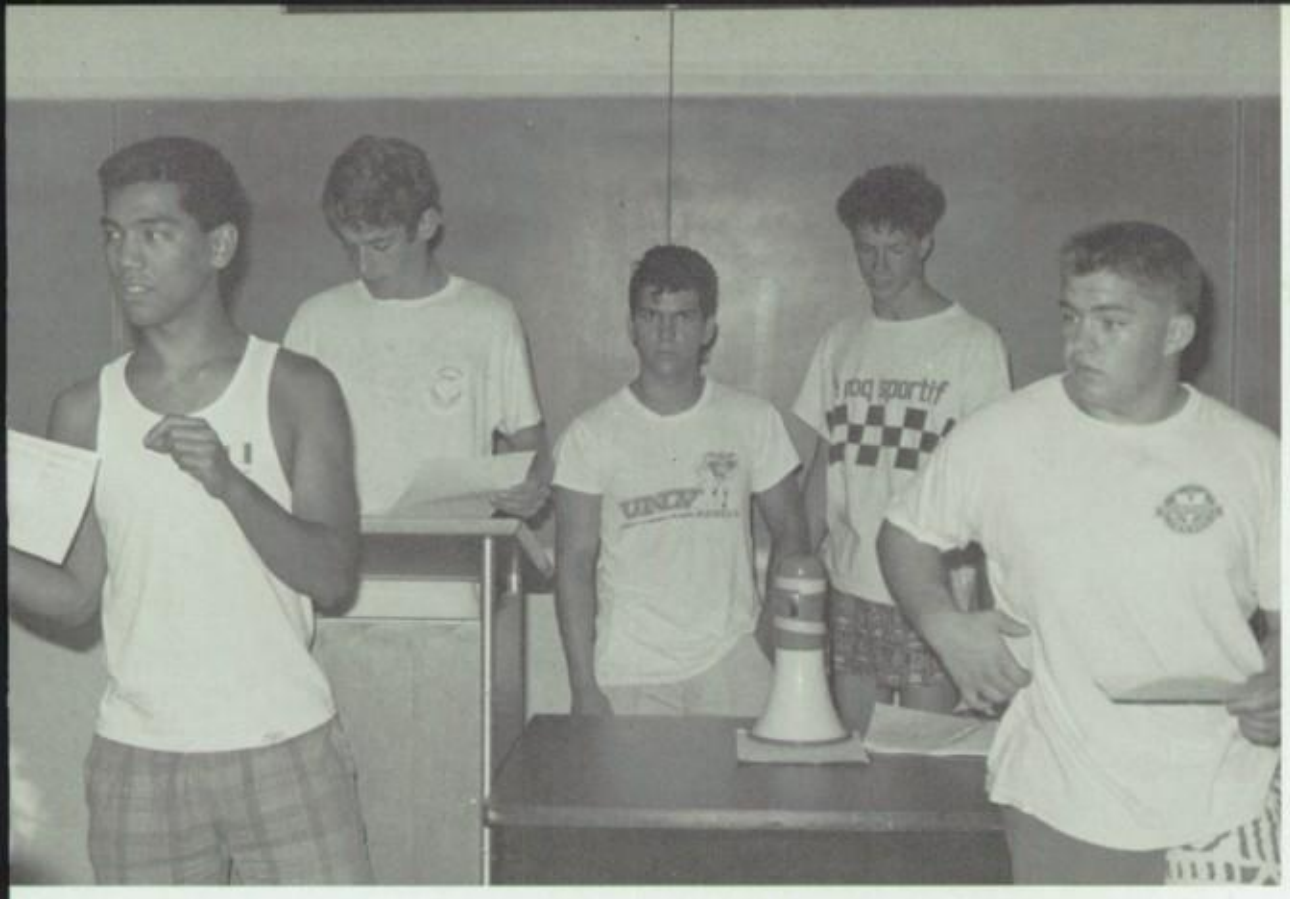
Fears of not knowing anyone and of being tortured by the Seniors were soon alleviated for incoming Freshmen as they received their Orientation to La Salle High School. Led by the ASB and Senior class officers, the Freshmen began their day with a welcome by Brother Robert. After they received their Locator Cards, they were introduced to La Salle's rotating schedule. Next, they learned and recited the Alma Mater and the Lancer cheer. Feeling their way around the building was faciliated by a mini-schedule, where teachers talked briefly about course requirements. Then it was time for fun and games, followed by a Senior prepared B-B-Q.



After a day of work and play, the Freshmen were ready for anything, even the hamburgers prepared by Br. Steven.

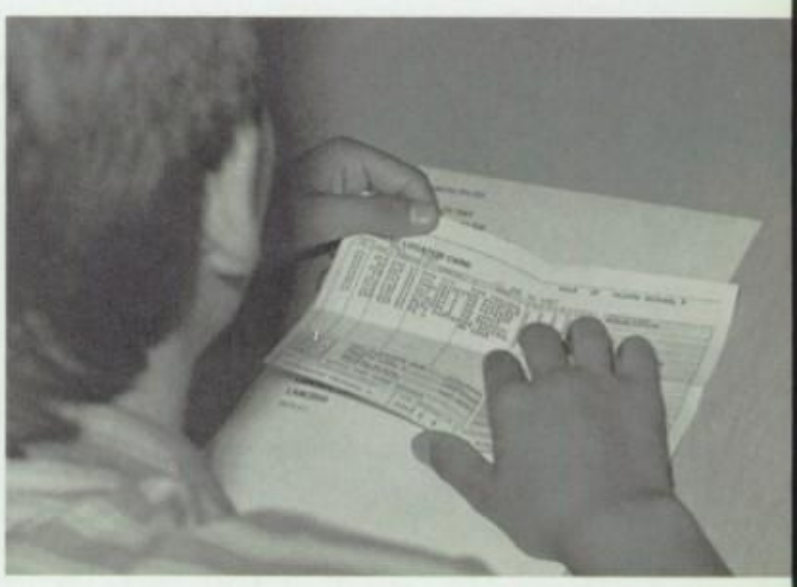
Practicing the LANCER cheers should be more exciting than this.

Adam Alcorn showed his aptitude for the mud pit before any Freshmen had a first taste of it. "It's a dirty job, but someone has to do it."



Sean Jackson and Diego Ramirez are on the lookout for Seniors.

Seniors Ed Malicdem and Stan Oliai are trying to explain the importance of the locator cards to the confused Freshmen.



Many Freshmen were in shock on seeing the long list of classes.

The only thing that kept the Seniors working hard is the chance to see the Freshmen in the mud.

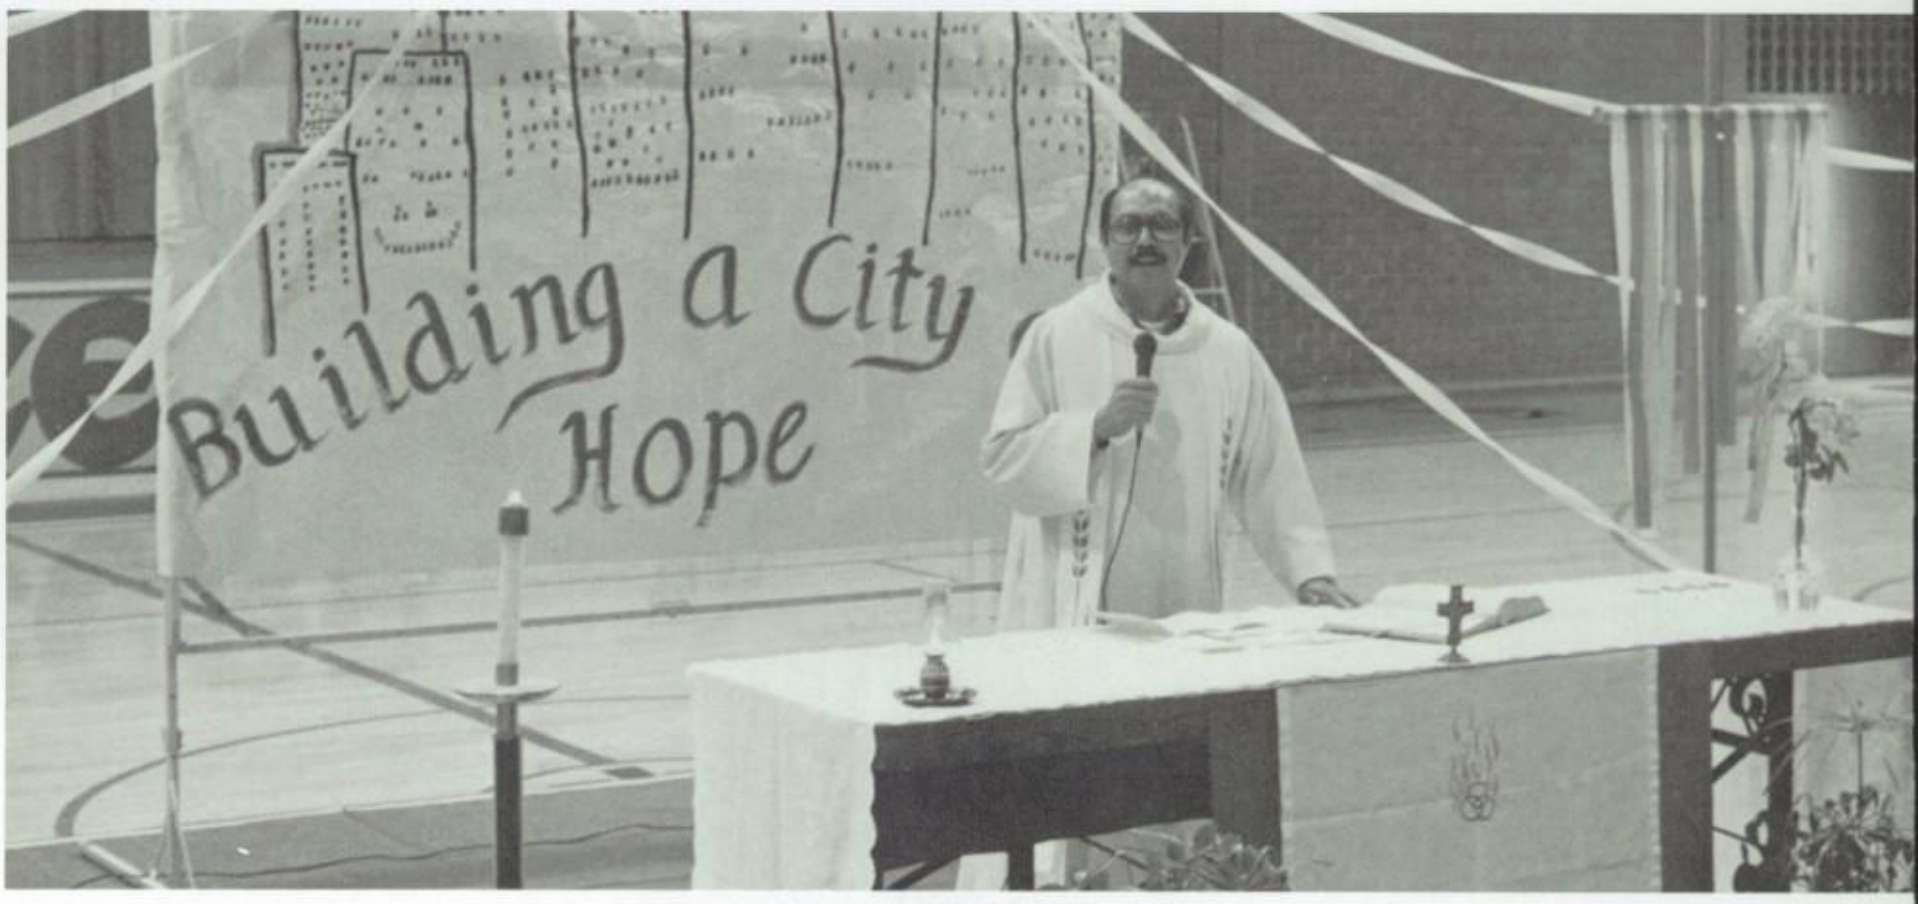
MASS IN CELEBRATION OF HOLY SPIRIT

Coinciding with the visit of Pope John Paul II to the United States, the September Holy Spirit Mass had as a theme, "Building a City of Hope".

Father Arthur Carrillo, new Director of Mater Dolorosa Retreat Center, was the Celebrant. In his homily, he stressed his ties to the Christian Brothers and talked about how each of us can build a city of hope.

A special induction ceremony was held for La Salle's Eucharistic Ministers - Br. Robert, Br. De Sales, Br. Steven, Br. James, Br. Donald, Br. Patrick, Mrs. MacCaul, Ms. Mellor, Mr. Bonaacci and Mr. Antonisamy.

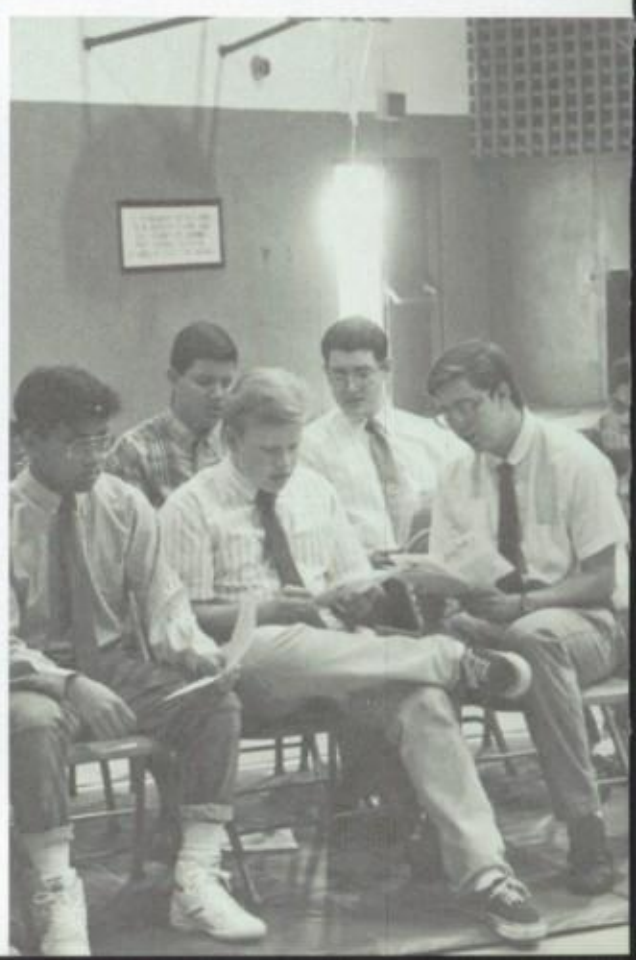
Many students participated in the liturgy: creating the decorations, selecting the reading, and singing in the choir.



Making his debut to the La Salle student body is Fr. Arthur Carrillo.

Vardon Vanevenhoven was among many dedicated students who made our first Mass successful.

Andy, Rich and Gary are discussing how the musical portion of the Mass should be carried out.



Guitarists Paul, Art and Jay are either bored or filled with the Holy Spirit.

Eucharistic Ministers of Brothers and lay faculty promise to fulfill their role for La Salle.

Br. Patrick, Br. Robert, and Mr. Bonacci are preparing to distribute the Communion.

Bernie is the first in line to receive Communion, while Adam awaits patiently.

INVOLVEMENT KEY IN PARENTS' EVENTS

Parents are automatically members of the La Salle Parents Association, headed by Gloria and John Delaney, and encouraged to become involved in the La Salle Community. Early in the school year, parents are invited to the school to meet their sons' teachers. They follow a schedule, moving from class to class. Teachers present class goals, objectives, grading procedures, homework requirements, etc. The Parents Association has as its major fund raiser this year a Scrip program. Ralphs, Vons, and Hughes markets give La Salle a 5 to 7% rebate on all scrip sold. This is one way to help La Salle that costs nothing. Other events that help create community are the mother/son and father/son communion breakfasts, the new parent welcome parties, the class potlucks and the sports award banquet.

Parents listen to an explanation of class requirements.

At Back-to-School Night, parents follow their sons' schedules.

Mrs. Jill Hall and Mrs. Jane Dinniene visit at parent event.

Mrs. Gloria Delaney welcomes parents to La Salle.

The Byrnes check their son's progress with Br. James.

Mrs. Susan Blakeslee answers questions for new parent, Mr. Washington.

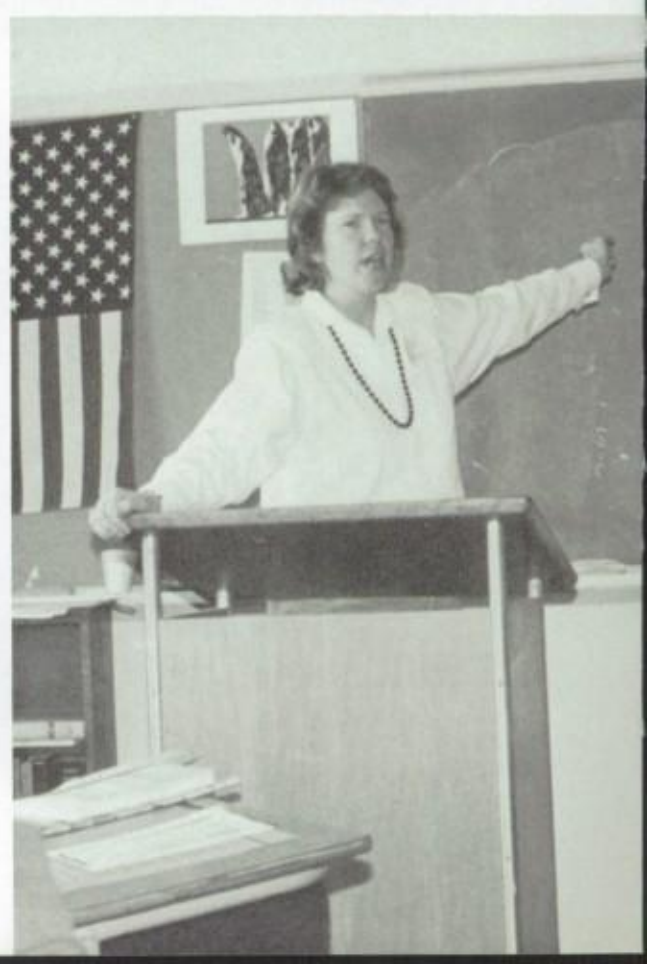
A LOOK AHEAD
CAREER DAY

On October 30, 1987, many of the talented La Salle Alumni returned to their Alma Mater to speak to current students about their jobs. The speakers included a former La Salle teacher, Br. William Carrire, FSC; Frank Griffith, class of 1962, who explained the values of the Alumni Association to the Senior class; and a more recent graduate, Erik Pedersen, '85, who extolled the virtues of retail sales. All these grads, and many more, made a special trip to La Salle to acquaint students with business opportunities that may be open to them after four years of higher education.

Brother Robert welcomes Jim Blackstock '65, Frank Griffith, '62, Greg Palmer'65, Br. William Carriere, Br. Arnold Stewart, and David Olender, '67.

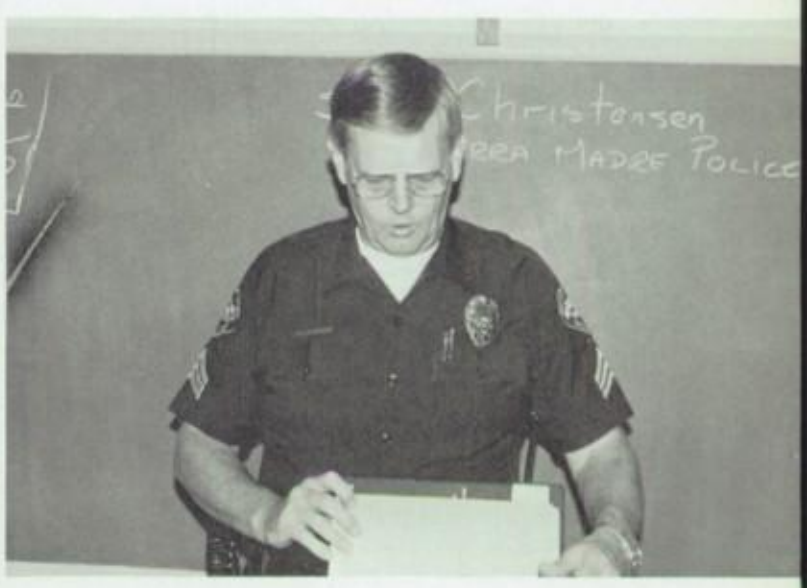
Dave Olender, Class of '67, explains to seniors the art of job preparation.

Several colleges were represented at Career Day including this representative from Pasadena City College.



Brother Robert thanks Br. Arnold Stewart of St. Mary's College for his participation in Career Day.

Brother Robert and Mr. Amendola receive commendation from visiting Air Force officers.



Br. William Carriere, FSC, Assistant Superintendent of Catholic schools in Orange County, talks to La Salle students about careers in education.

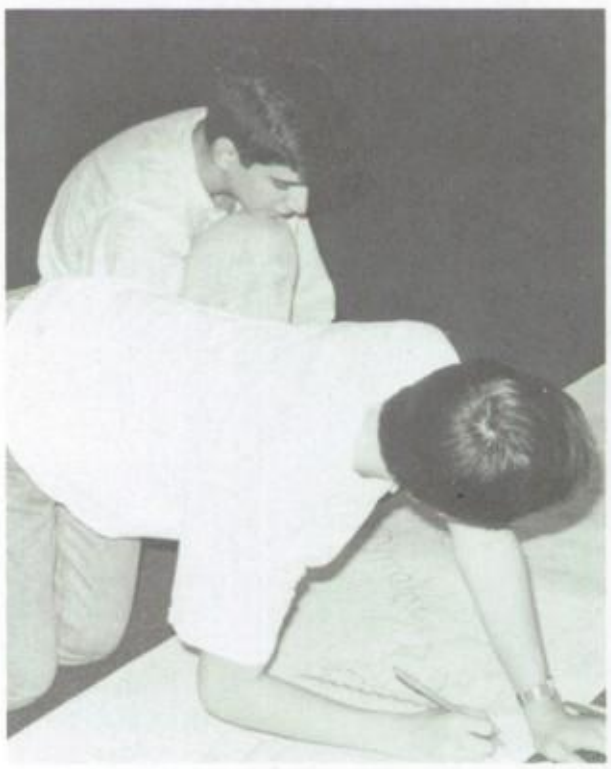
Officer Christensen, of the Sierra Madre Police, explains training necessary for a career in law enforcement.

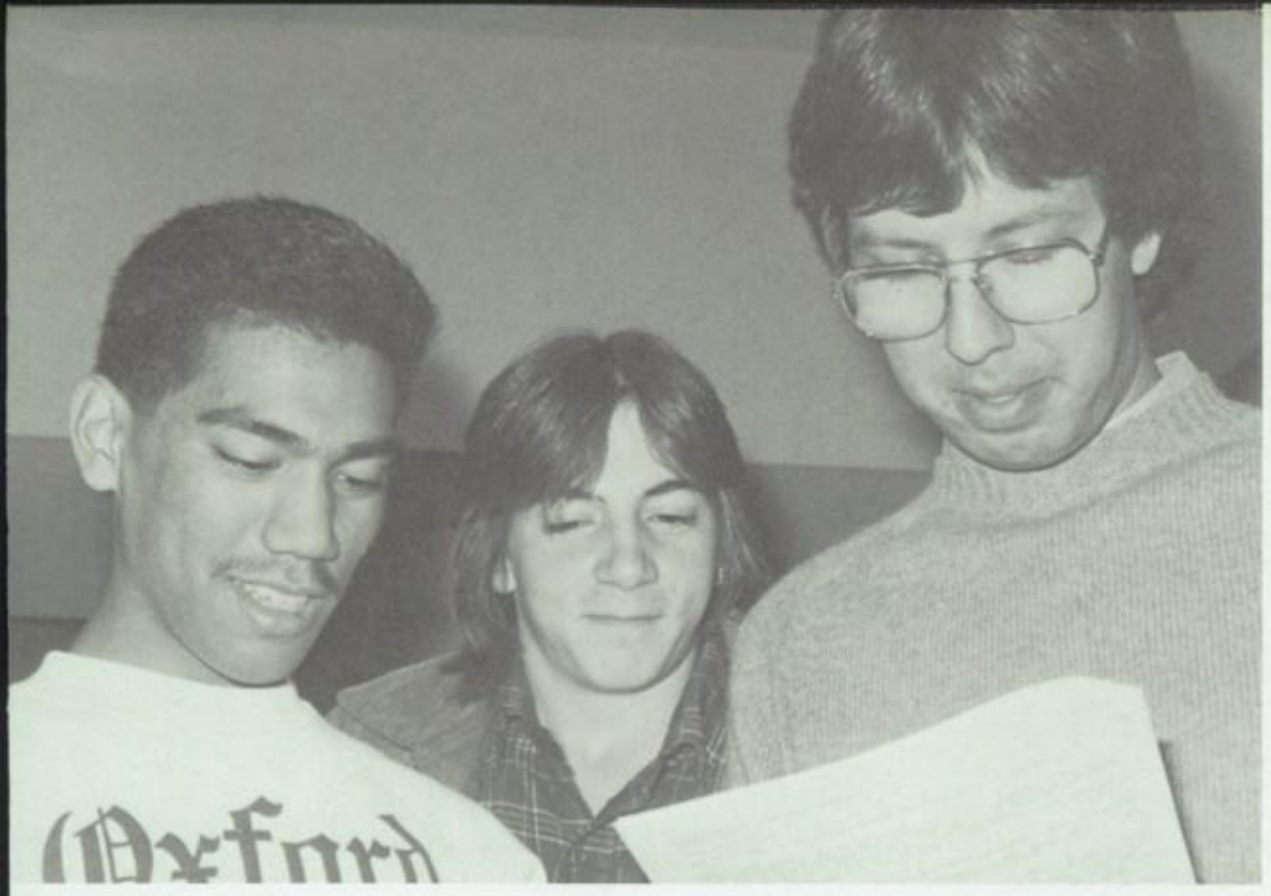
The Class of '91 chalked up several firsts this year. In addition to being the first class to have a 7-period day; they also had a mandatory one-day retreat at Mater Dolorosa Retreat Center. Organized by Br. James and entirely run by junior and senior students, the two retreats were extremely successful. The theme centered around self-identity and role models. As one of the small group activities, freshmen were asked to write a letter to an upper classman that they admire. The day concluded with a student planned liturgy. Fr. Edwin from Assumption officiated. The letters were made a part of the offetory.

Student leaders oversee lunch time activities on the field.

Freshmen made posters depicting friendship for the liturgy

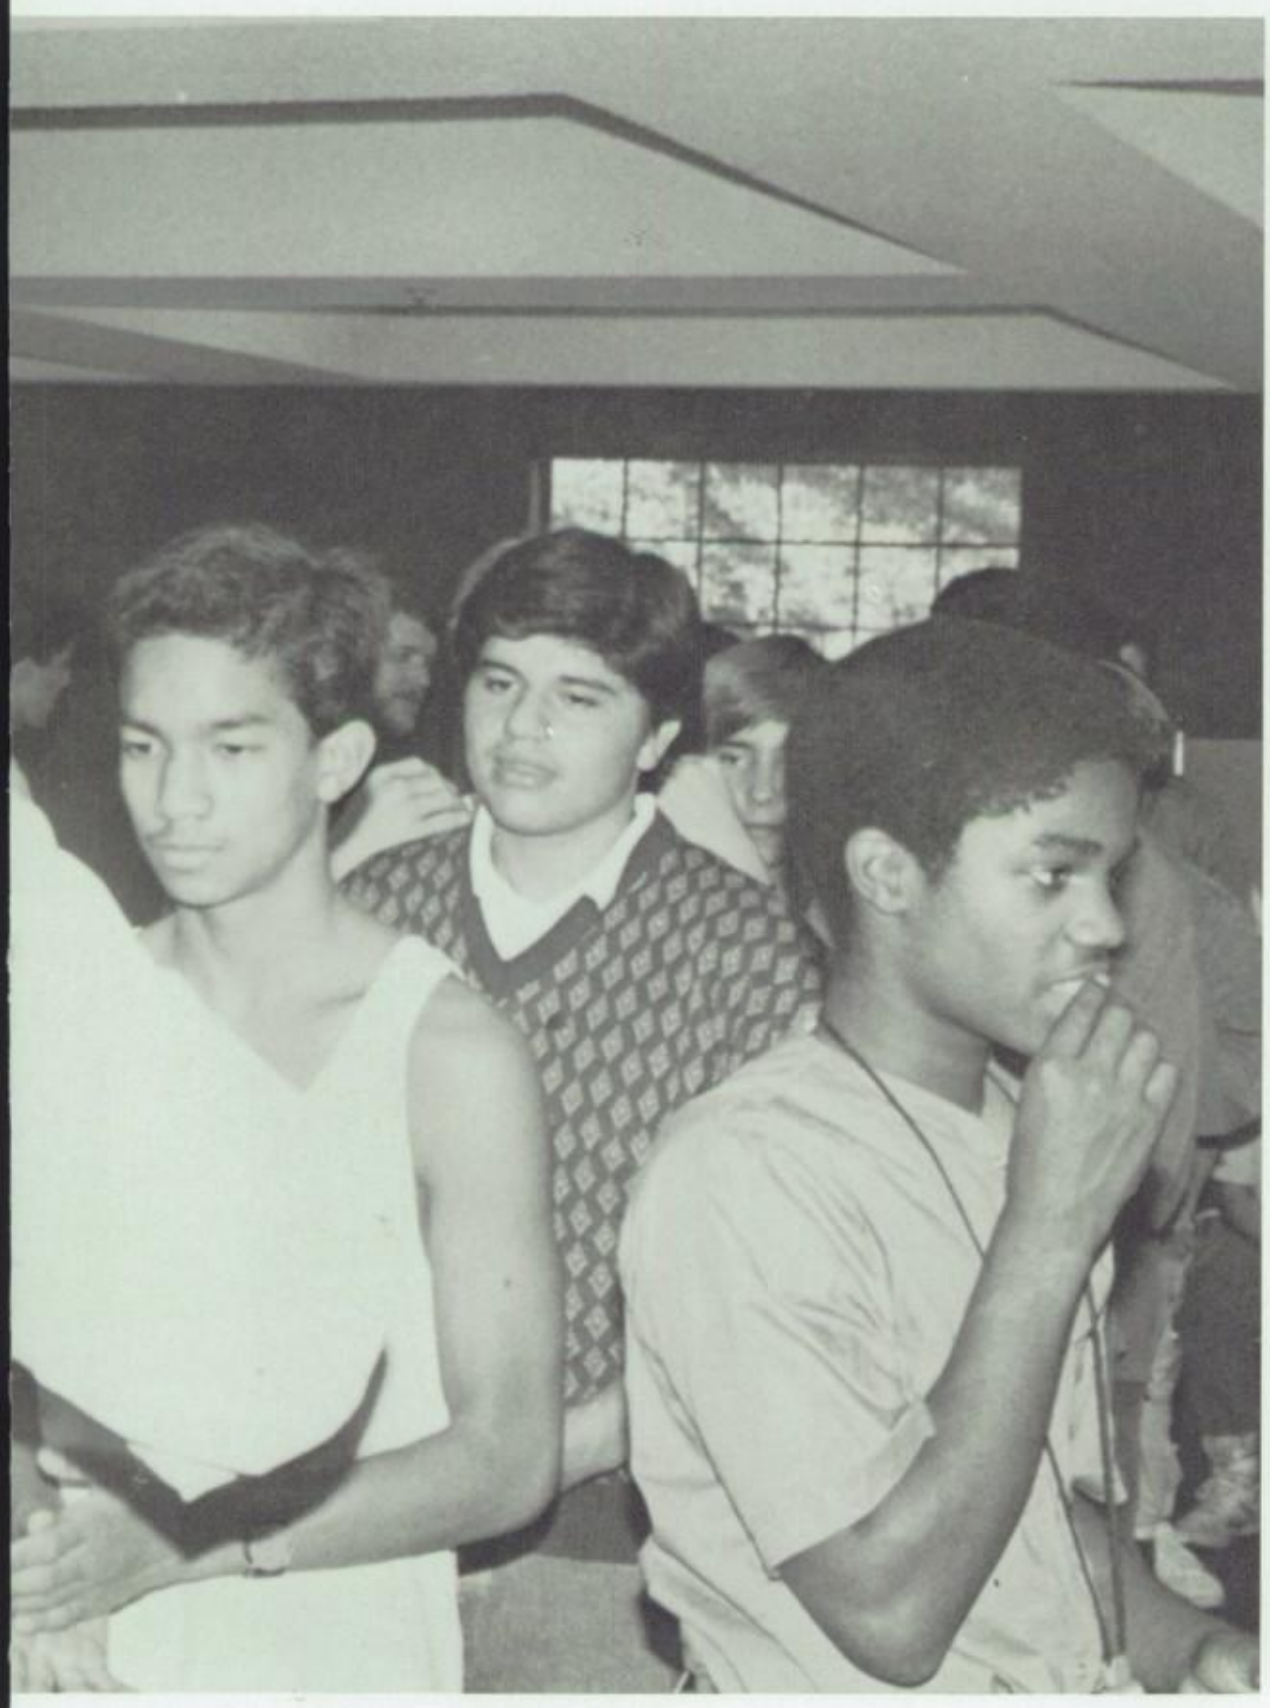
Jaimie and Johnny take a rest during the outdoor activities.





A favorite activity at the day-long retreat is a friendly game of Capture the Flag.

Ed Malicdem, Tim Lesh and Fr. Edwin make last minute preparations for the mass.



Students partake in the Liturgy of the Eucharist.

Although retreats are fun some find time for a snooze.

PEP RALLIES GENERATE SPIRIT

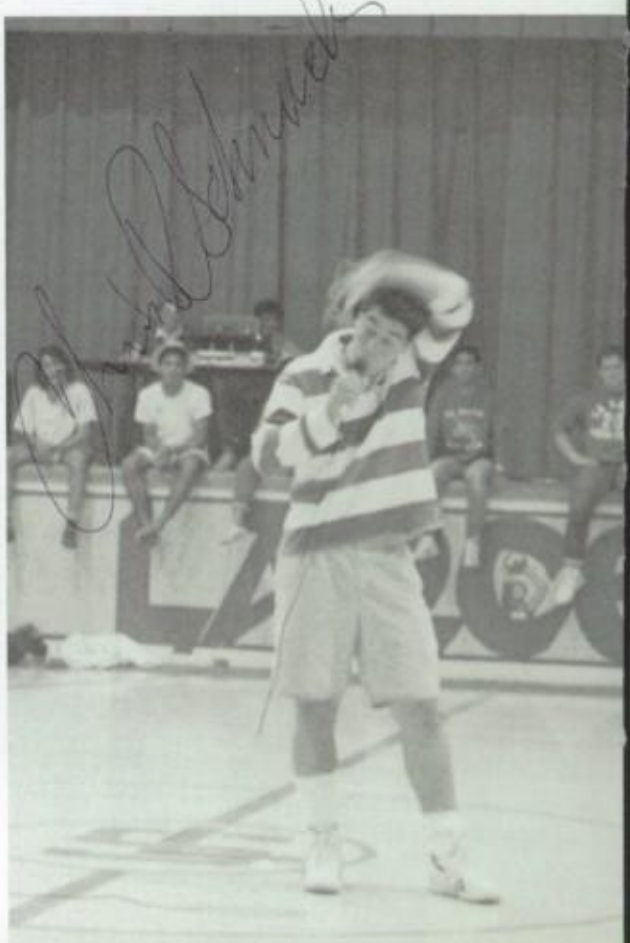
The Quarterly Pep Rallies are intended to promote interest in La Salle's Athletic Teams which include: Cross Country, Water Polo, Basketball, Soccer, Track, Swimming, Baseball, Tennis, Golf, and Volleyball.

Although the format varies, the current teams are introduced, varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders perform, and the pep band stirs up the crowd with some lively tunes. Contests that generate class competition and spirit, range from pie eating contests to tug-a-wars, with the Lancers being assisted by the Cheerleaders. The Lancer Spell Out is one of the most popular cheers.

Athletic Director, Mr. Matheus introduces members of Water Polo Team.

The Pep Rallies are really like variety shows with lip syncs being a real crowd pleaser.

Chris Schnaider hams it up for a howling crowd with his impersonation of Br. Steve.



The Rally Committee entertains with a musical skit.

The award winning Lancer cheerleaders, Alverno students, are the highlight of the pep assemblies.

Adam and Rick take it all off (almost) in vaudeville routine.

Juniors rock out to the sounds of their favorite groups.

CHEERLEADERS ADD SPIRIT

Under the direction of Ms. Marissa Quiroz, the Lancer Cheerleaders appear at all home basketball games and pep rallies to promote school spirit among the loyal fans and to add sparkle to the assemblies. Varsity cheerleaders are Carol Arranaga, Stephanie Whited, Karen Cabot, Clara Lee, Danielle Arnerich and Sandi loele. The J.V. Cheerleaders include Chrissy Brack, Josephine Lopez, Felicia Bright and Jenny Jensen.

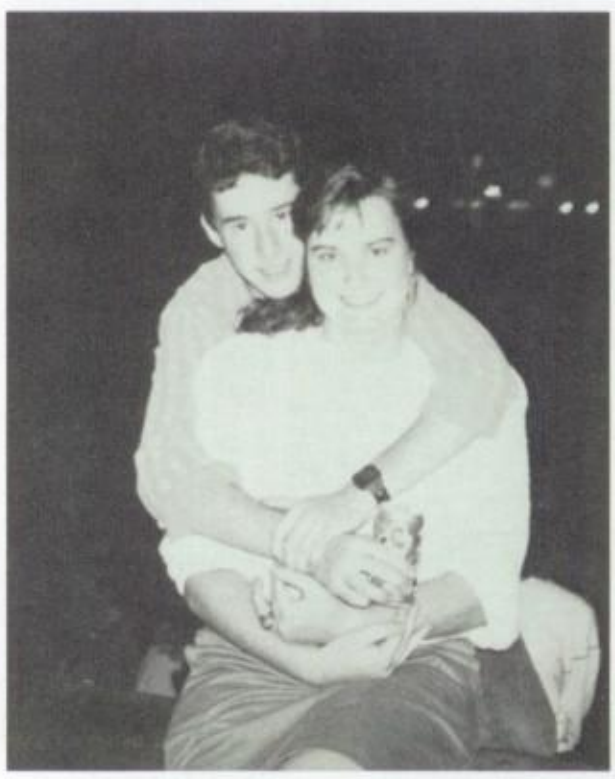
IN THE SOCIAL SWING—DANCES

La Salle has hosted several dances this year in the dazzlingly decorated gymnasium. The Senior class sponsored the first dance — "The Freshmen Welcome Dance," with special guest Amnesia. The Junior class hosted "The Dance," a sock hop featuring Steve from Marilyn's Back Street. People were a little shy at first, but as night began to fall, they danced the night away. Many girls' schools were invited, including Alverno, Mission, Sacred Heart and St. Lucy's.

The gymnasium was transformed to a dazzling dance floor.

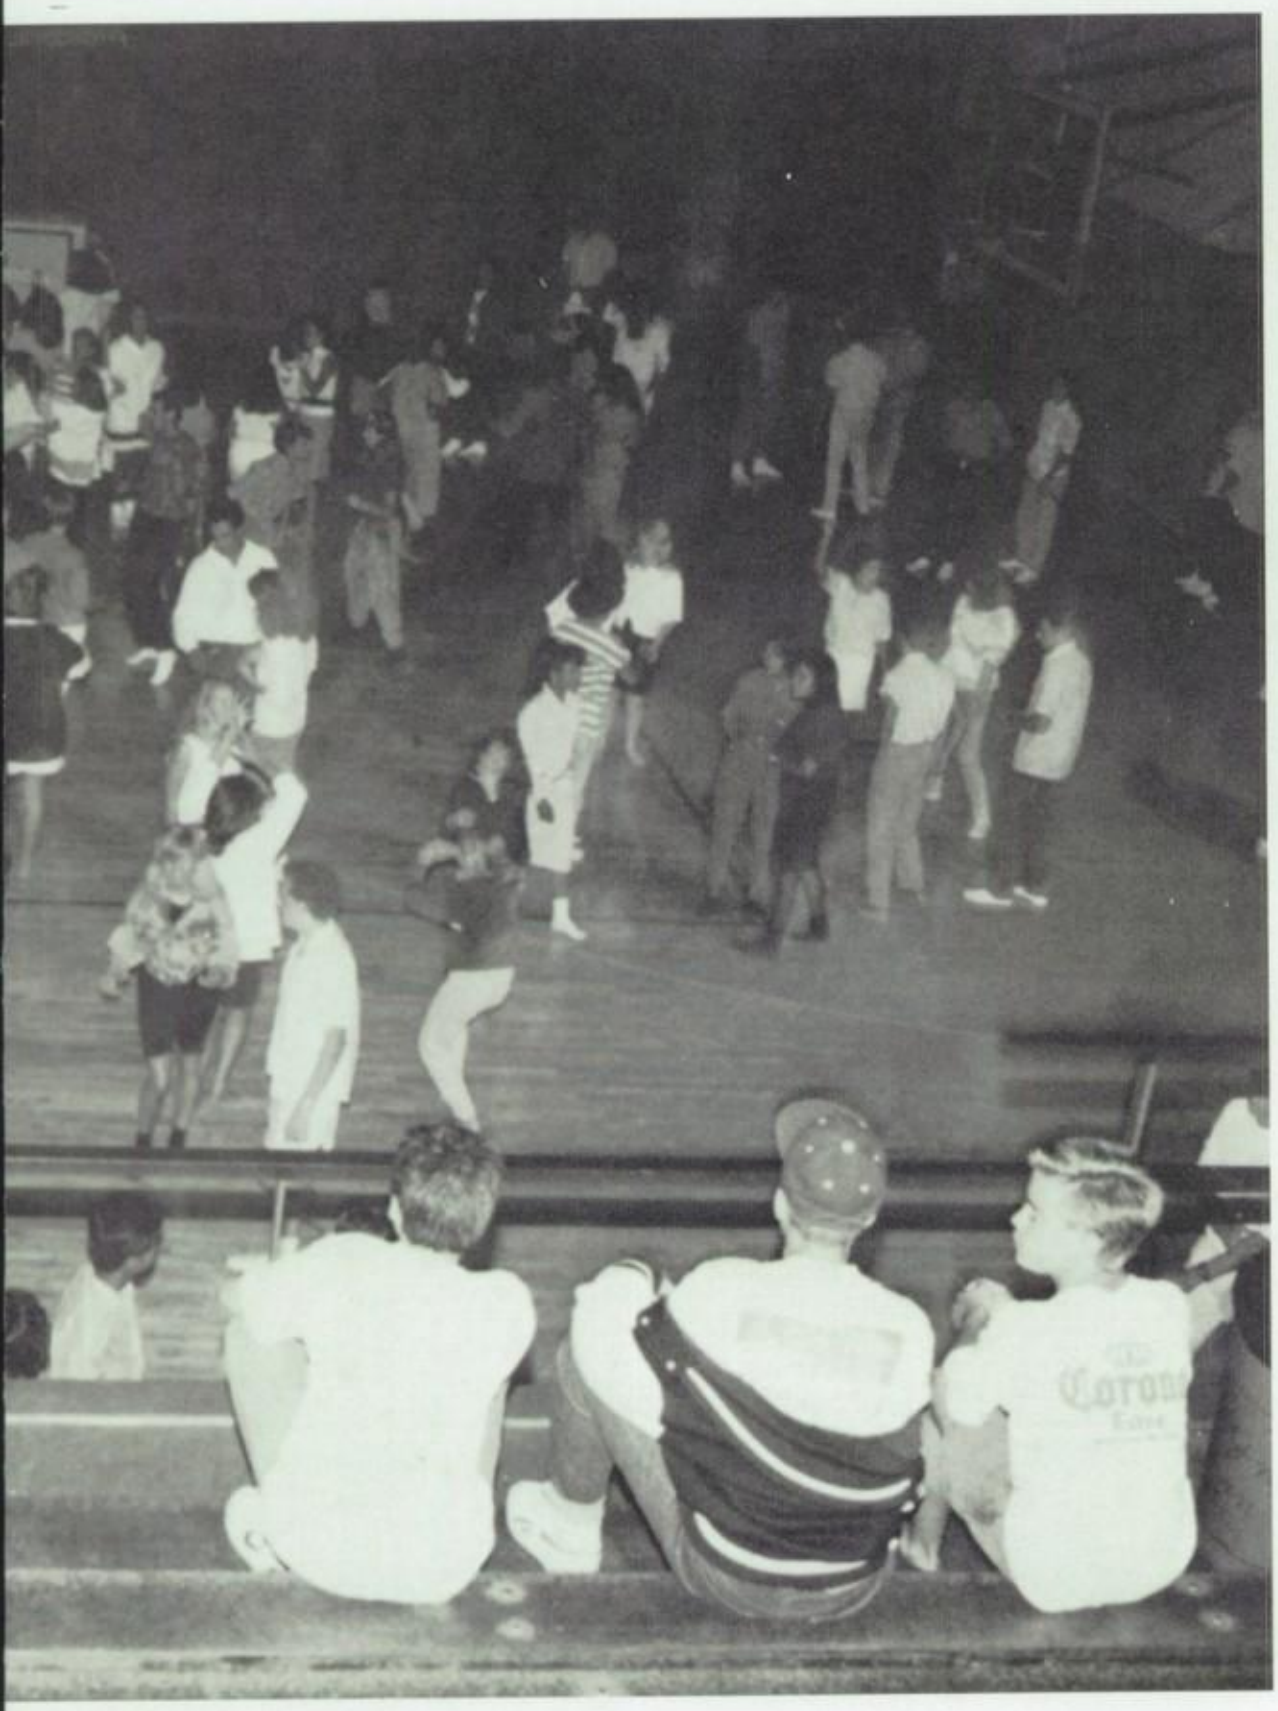
This is one of those Kodak moments for J..J.

Going Crazy, Julio?



Giving up a Friday Night to chaperone a dance, Br. Steven and Mrs. Werner take a moment to pose for our photographers.

Gary and Pat dressed extremely stylish that night. Could that be because they wanted to meet some girls?



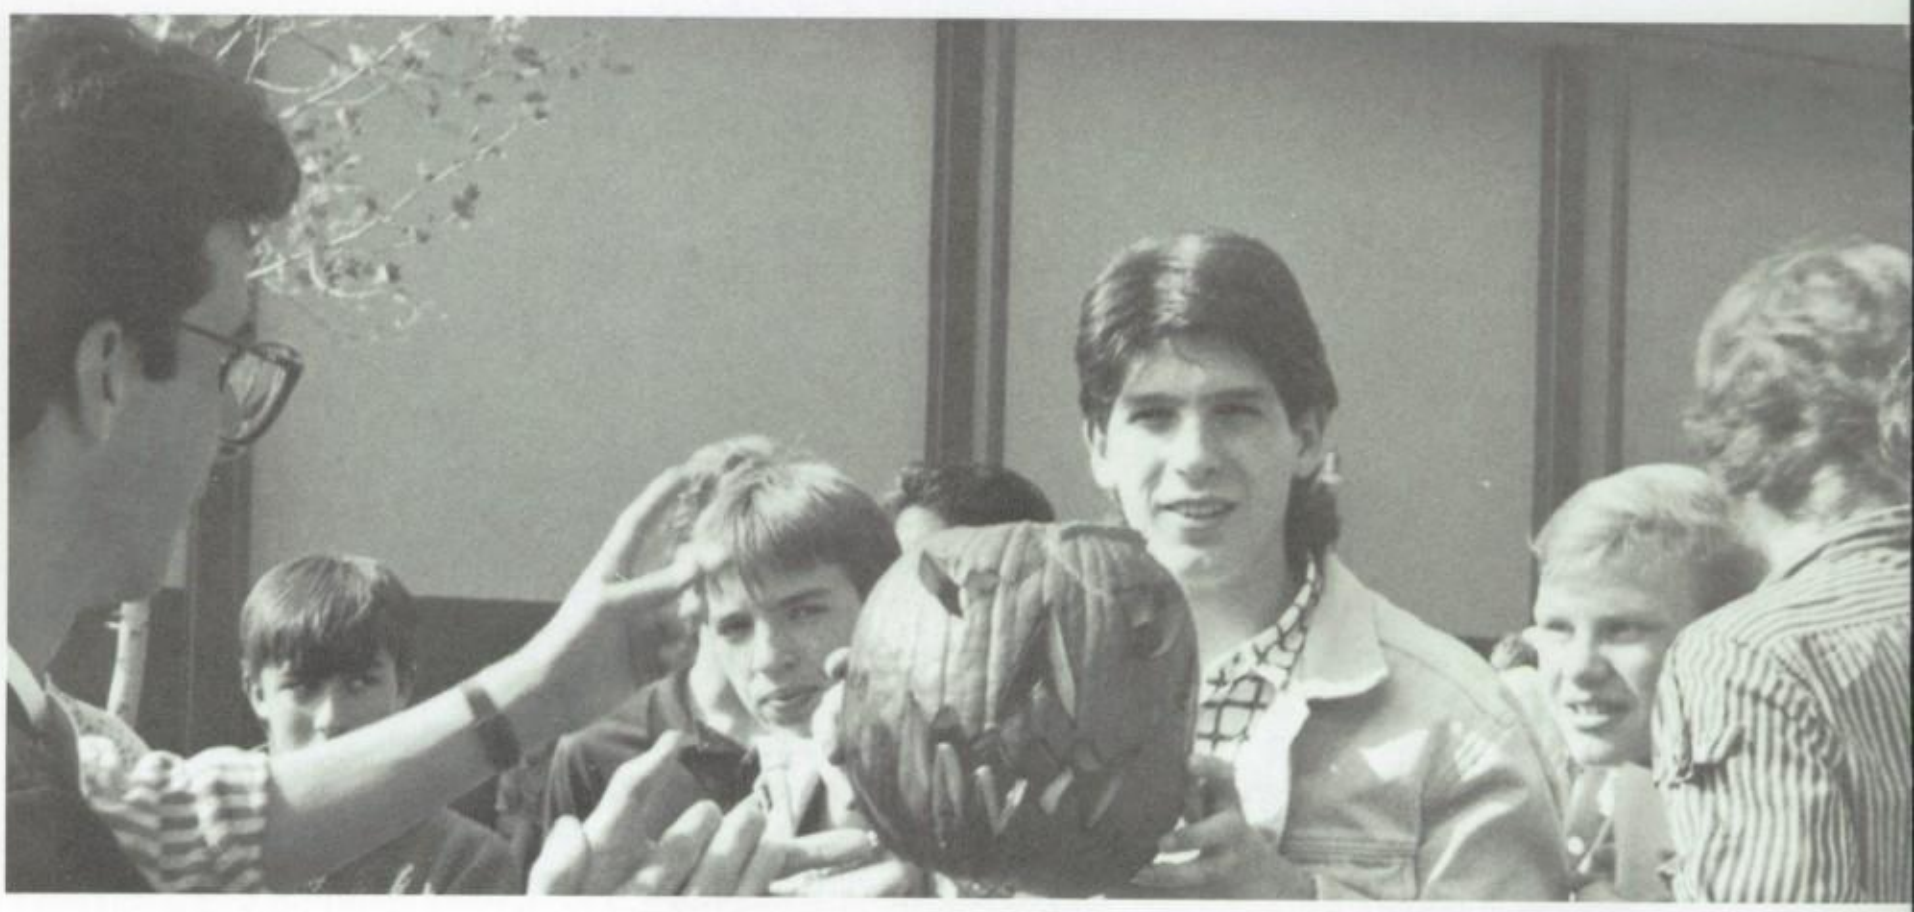
Most people got on the dance floor EVENTUALLY!

Dave, Pat, George, and Dan provided refreshments for the dance.

Halloween Happenings

Adding lots of spirit to the Halloween festivities was La Salle's first annual Pumpkin Carving Contest sponsored by the Freshman class, under the direction of Br. Steven, Moderator. Each English class chose three team members for the competition. At noon, these carving wizards began the challenge to see who could create the scariest, and cleanest cut jack o'lantern in the shortest amount of time. Judges Br. Robert, Br. De Sales, and Mr. Ossmann viewed the completed pumpkins, as class members cheered for their favorites.

Costume day for La Salle meant Seniors in togas and a costume parade with judging. "As myself" was probably the most popular costume of the day!



Mark Gilbreth's pumpkin might not be the scariest, but it certainly won the approval of the judges.

We are not sure if Mr. Uejima was trying to exhibit his own version of a slimmer Santa Claus with black beard, but we sure hope that Mrs. O'Brien only wears that hairdo on Halloween.

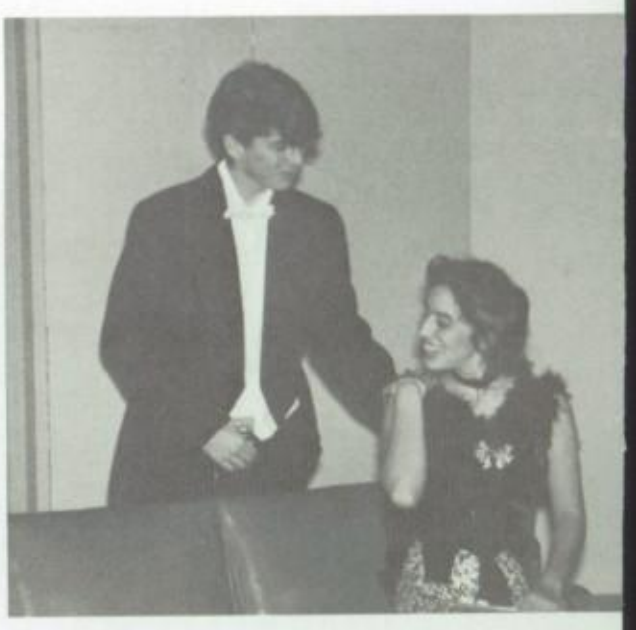
The pumpkin is not half as scary as its creators. All those knives?

Josh Hagen did not seem to be interested in all the Halloween events because he is used to the terror and fright he daily encounters at La Salle.

If you think TV is too violent nowadays, think again. Just take a look at what they did to the pumpkins in this picture.

As shown here, the attempt to find a brain in a pumpkin head is futile.

LA SALLE DRAMATISTS DAZZLE AUDIENCE



In the Drama Department's presentation of "Charley's Aunt," a turn-of-the-century comedy, students donned their English accents and totally absorbed themselves, and their audience, in the Oxford persona.

As the play opens, Jack Chesney (Peter Chittum) and Charles Wykeham (David Sewell) begin to tell the story of their longing to marry their girls, Kitty Verdun (Mary Tomlinson) and Amy Spettigue (Celina Guererro). Charley must get the approval of his long lost aunt before he can marry.

This situation forces them to disguise a college chum of theirs to impersonate Charley's aunt (What a site, Sam del Castillo in drag!)

The Royal Theatre Company of La Salle take a bow for their fine presentation of "Charley's Aunt."

Rehearsals are soooo much fun . . .

Final costume arrangements made by the one and only, Beverly Bishop.

Brian Klotz and Melissa Magdaleno lay on the charm.

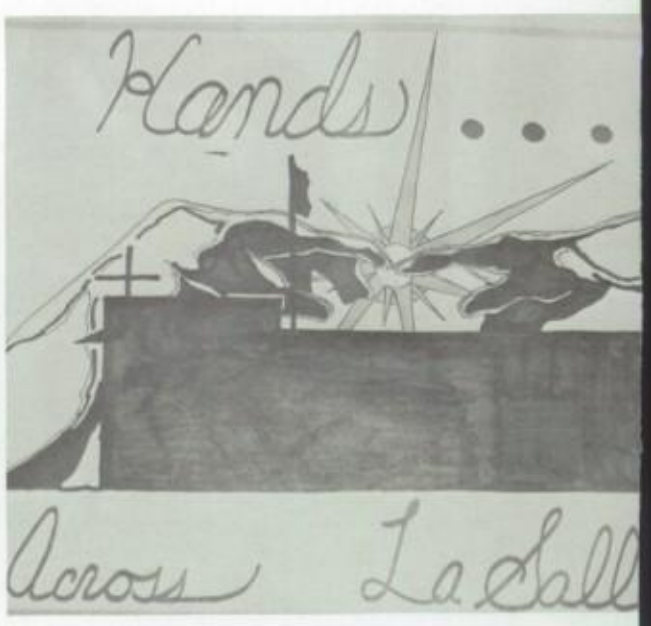
Tim Lesh, Frank Martinez, Jeff Piering and Joe Cannon are Dark Knight Lighting; The Drama Department's hard workers, hard at work.

Sam del Castillo hides his face, ashamed to be seen in such attire.

Peter Chittum (Jack), Mary Tomlinson (Kitty) and Sam engage in some lite banter . . .

THANKSGIVING
UNITED WE HAND

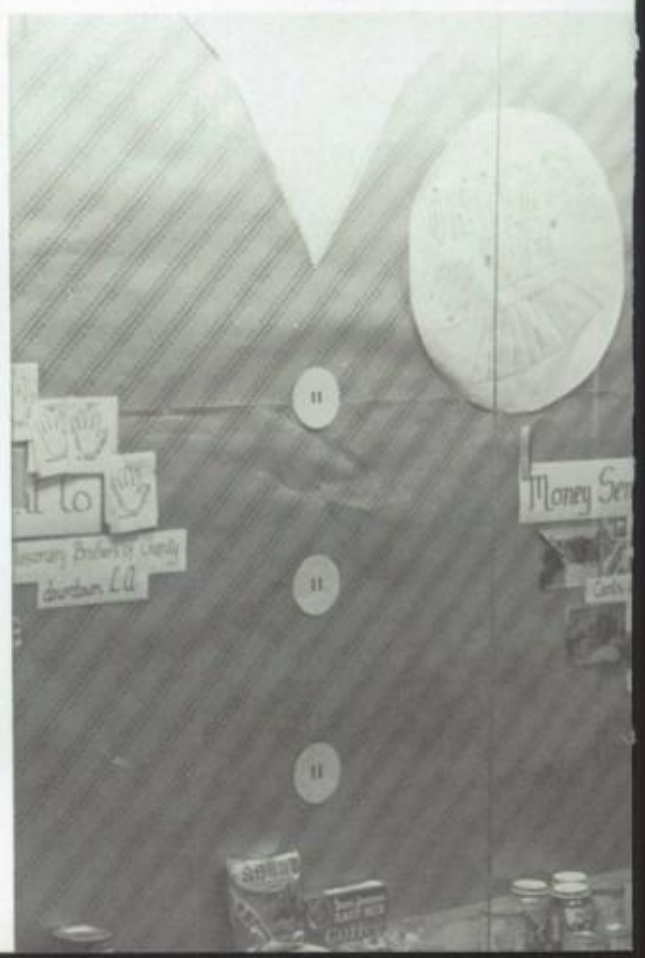
Campus Ministry continues its involvement in the La Salle community, creating community with the Thanksgiving Drive. Thanks to the generosity of La Salle students, faculty, and staff, several families in downton L.A. had something really special to be grateful for this year. Over 1400 canned foods were collected and delivered to the families by Campus Ministry volunteers. $550 was sent to Centro La Salle, a joint project with the Christian Brothers of the San Francisco Province and of Mexico. Once again, the Campus Ministry exemplifies the Christian values which are the hallmark of La Salle.



Father Edwin officiates at the Thanks giving mass.

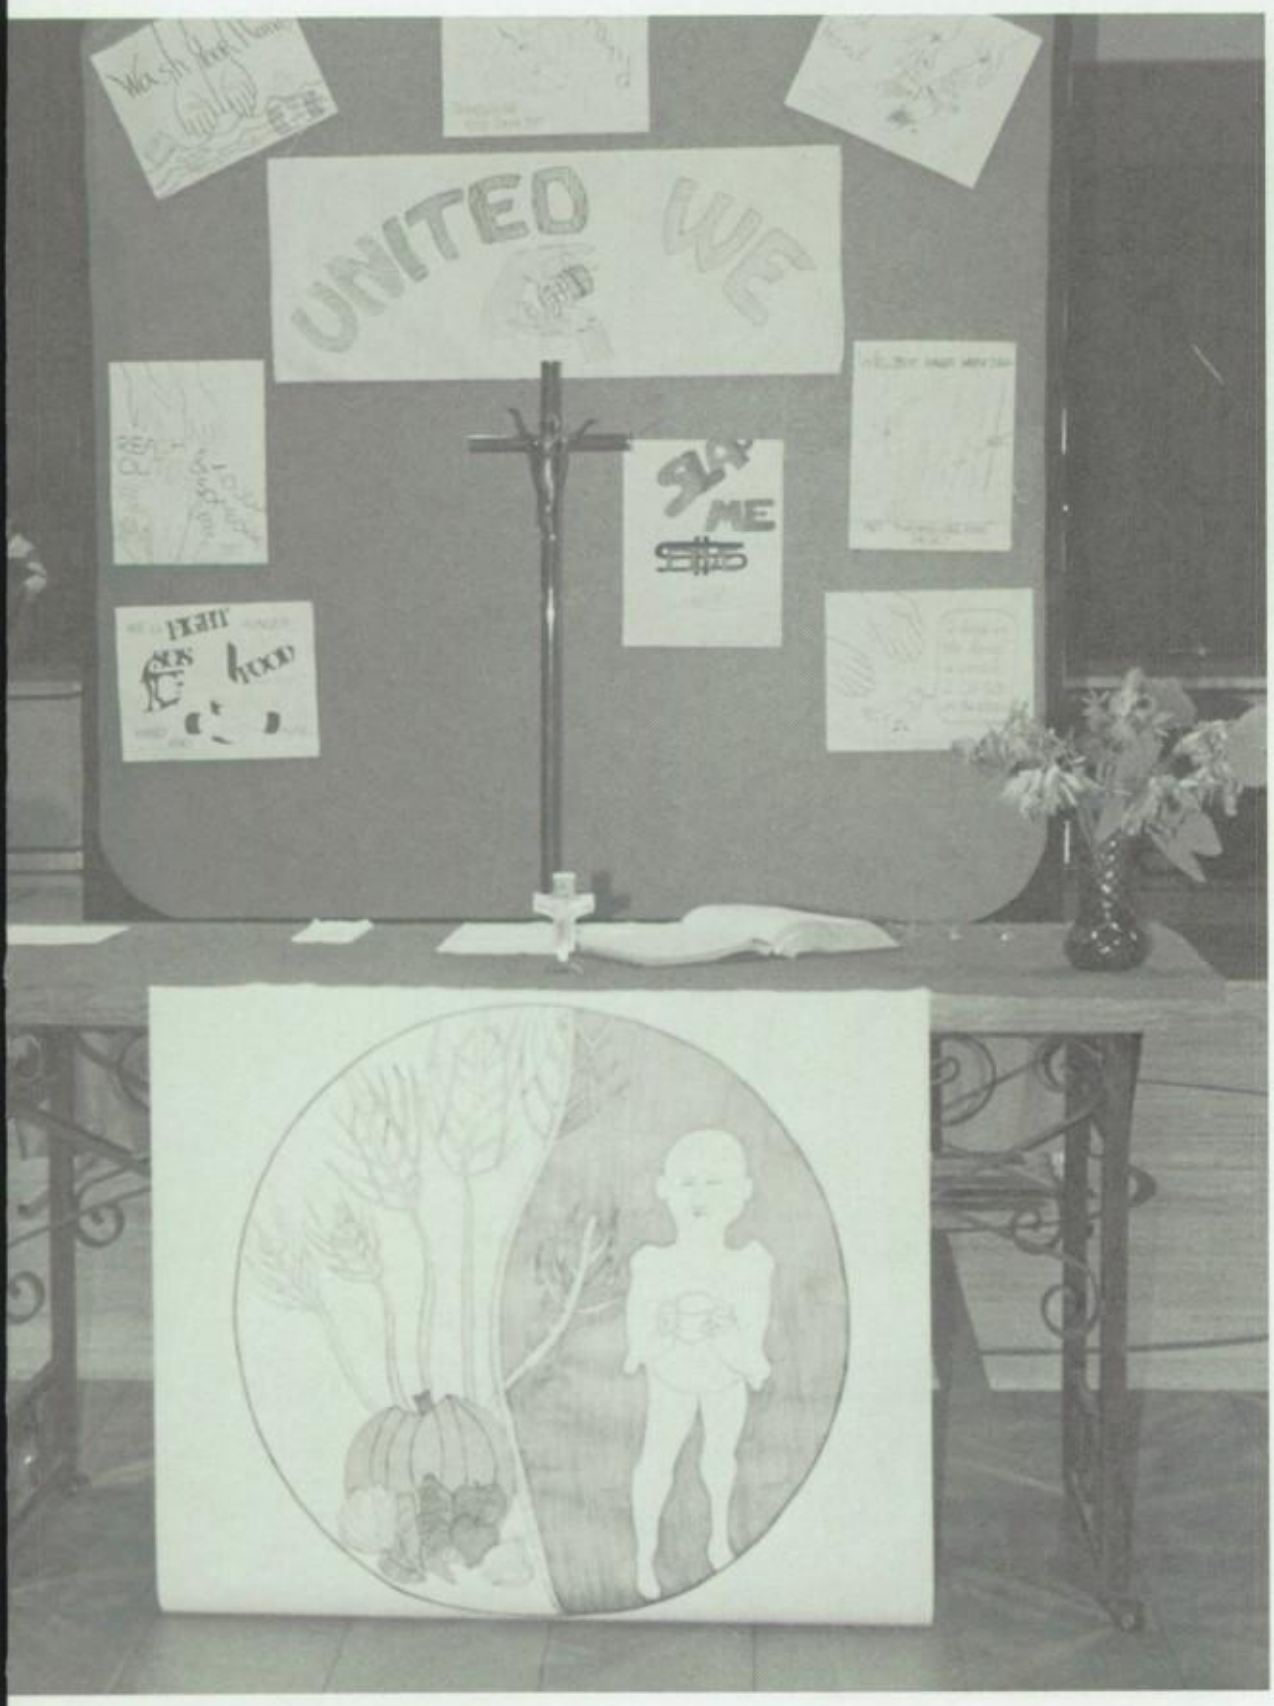
Representing the segments of the La Salle Community, prayers of petition of offered.

The Period 2 classes competed to see who could be the most successful in collecting money and canned goods.



Colorful posters decked the gym to denote the food drive theme.

Seniors, Keith Johnson and Ed Malicdem bring forward the juniors' rings during the offertory.



United We Hand, was the theme of the Thanksgiving Food Drive.

Vardon Vanevenhoven leads the procession.

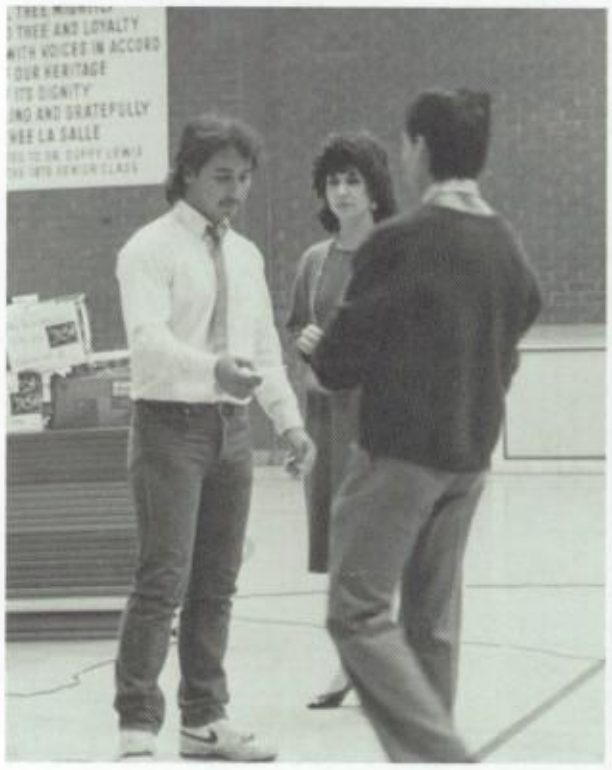
A Class ring is a symbol of class unity. In the Junior Ring Mass, the juniors experienced this unity. The mass, carefully planned by Br. James and many volunteering juniors, ran smoothly. Mr. Bonacci and Mrs. Werner, moderators of the junior class, presided over the ritual, while the juniors took turns to give and receive the blessed rings. Music for the mass provided by the singers from Campus Ministry, accompanied by Mr. Antonisamy and the Advanced Band. On that day, the juniors shared the excitement, joy and unity that bring them together as a unique class in La Salle.

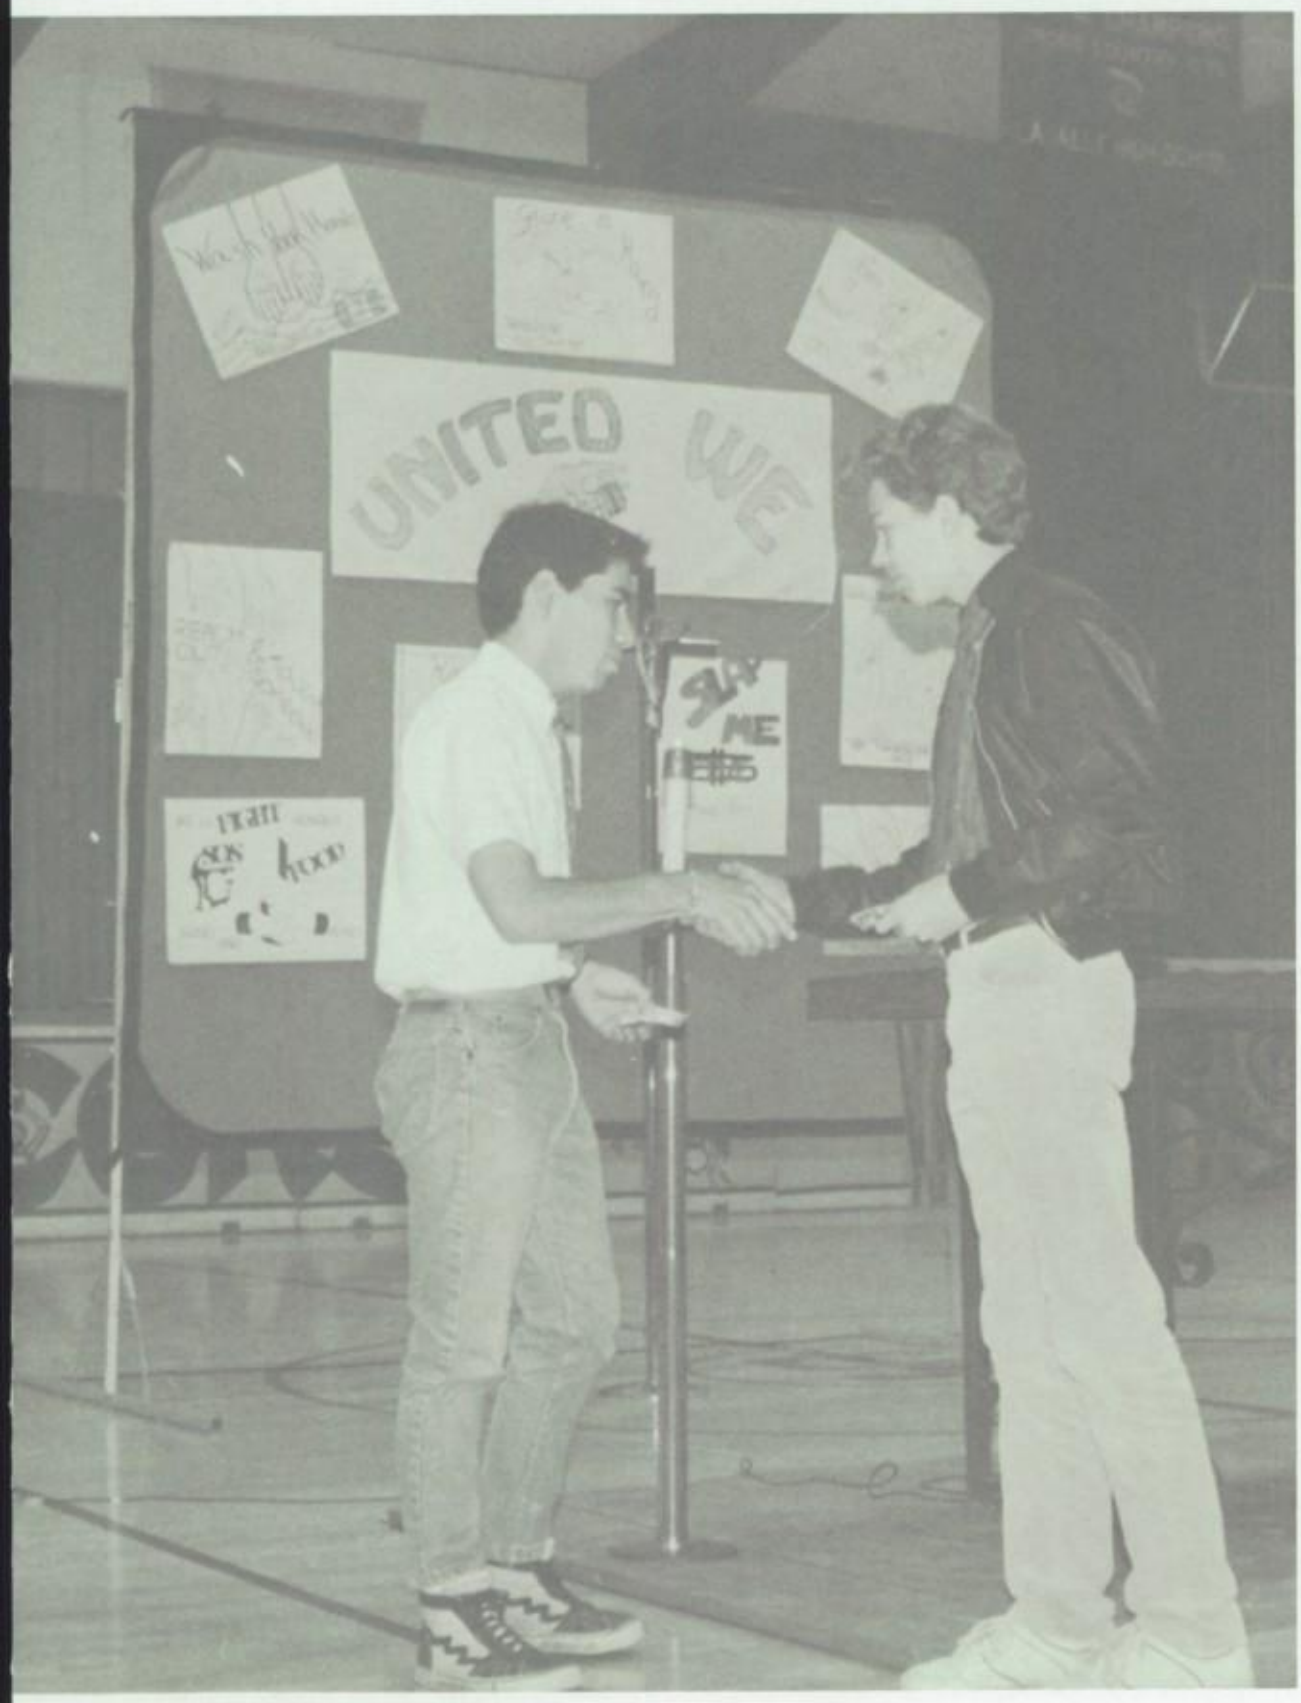
Some juniors are excited, and some are anxious. They all can't wait to receive their rings.

Mrs. Werner is presiding over the ritual in which one junior presents a class ring to another.

Mr. Bonacci made sure that each person announced the right name and received the right ring.



The juniors came up with a unique way to distribute their class rings. Each ring is presented by a fellow classmate to another.



Unity is shown as the two juniors shook hands when one received his ring from the other.

Father Edwin in charge of the Junior Ring Mass, received the offerings our school presented.

HOLIDAY SPARKLE BANDS ENTERTAIN

The Christmas Concert kicked off the joyful season at La Salle. Bandleader Mr. Antonisamy, with his three bands, prepared a night of music for the audience. The talent of each band member was clearly shown through the two hour performance. Traditionally, one of the faculty members will dress up as Santa Claus and pass out candies as he moves through the crowd. This year, Br. James assumed this role. The night was not only filled with the sound of musical instruments, but also the sound of applause and cheers.

Under the direction of Mr. Antonisamy, the Advanced Band did a wonderful job that night.

Paul Puccinelli is well-known for his musical talents. Here he is playing a trumpet solo.

It is evident that junior Julio Bermejo is relieved that the performance is finally over.

Band members are getting into their positions, as they prepared for their performance.

It is a tradition that all three bands play a selection together at the end of the concert.

It seems that Manuel and Joe are extremely satisfied with the Jazz Band performance. Here they are with the self-congratulatory smiles.

IN THE HEAT OF THE SNOWBALL

On December 19, one of the La Salle traditions took place, the 1987 Snowball. "Jingle Bell Rock," in conjunction with Alverno High School, was held at St. Rita's Hall. Couples, dressed in their semi-formal attire, danced and enjoyed the music supplied by Amnesia. The evenings highlights included picture taking, and the anticipation of seeing the finished product. Refreshments were served by the freshmen students, and it was pronounced by the A.S.B. to have been "Very Successful."

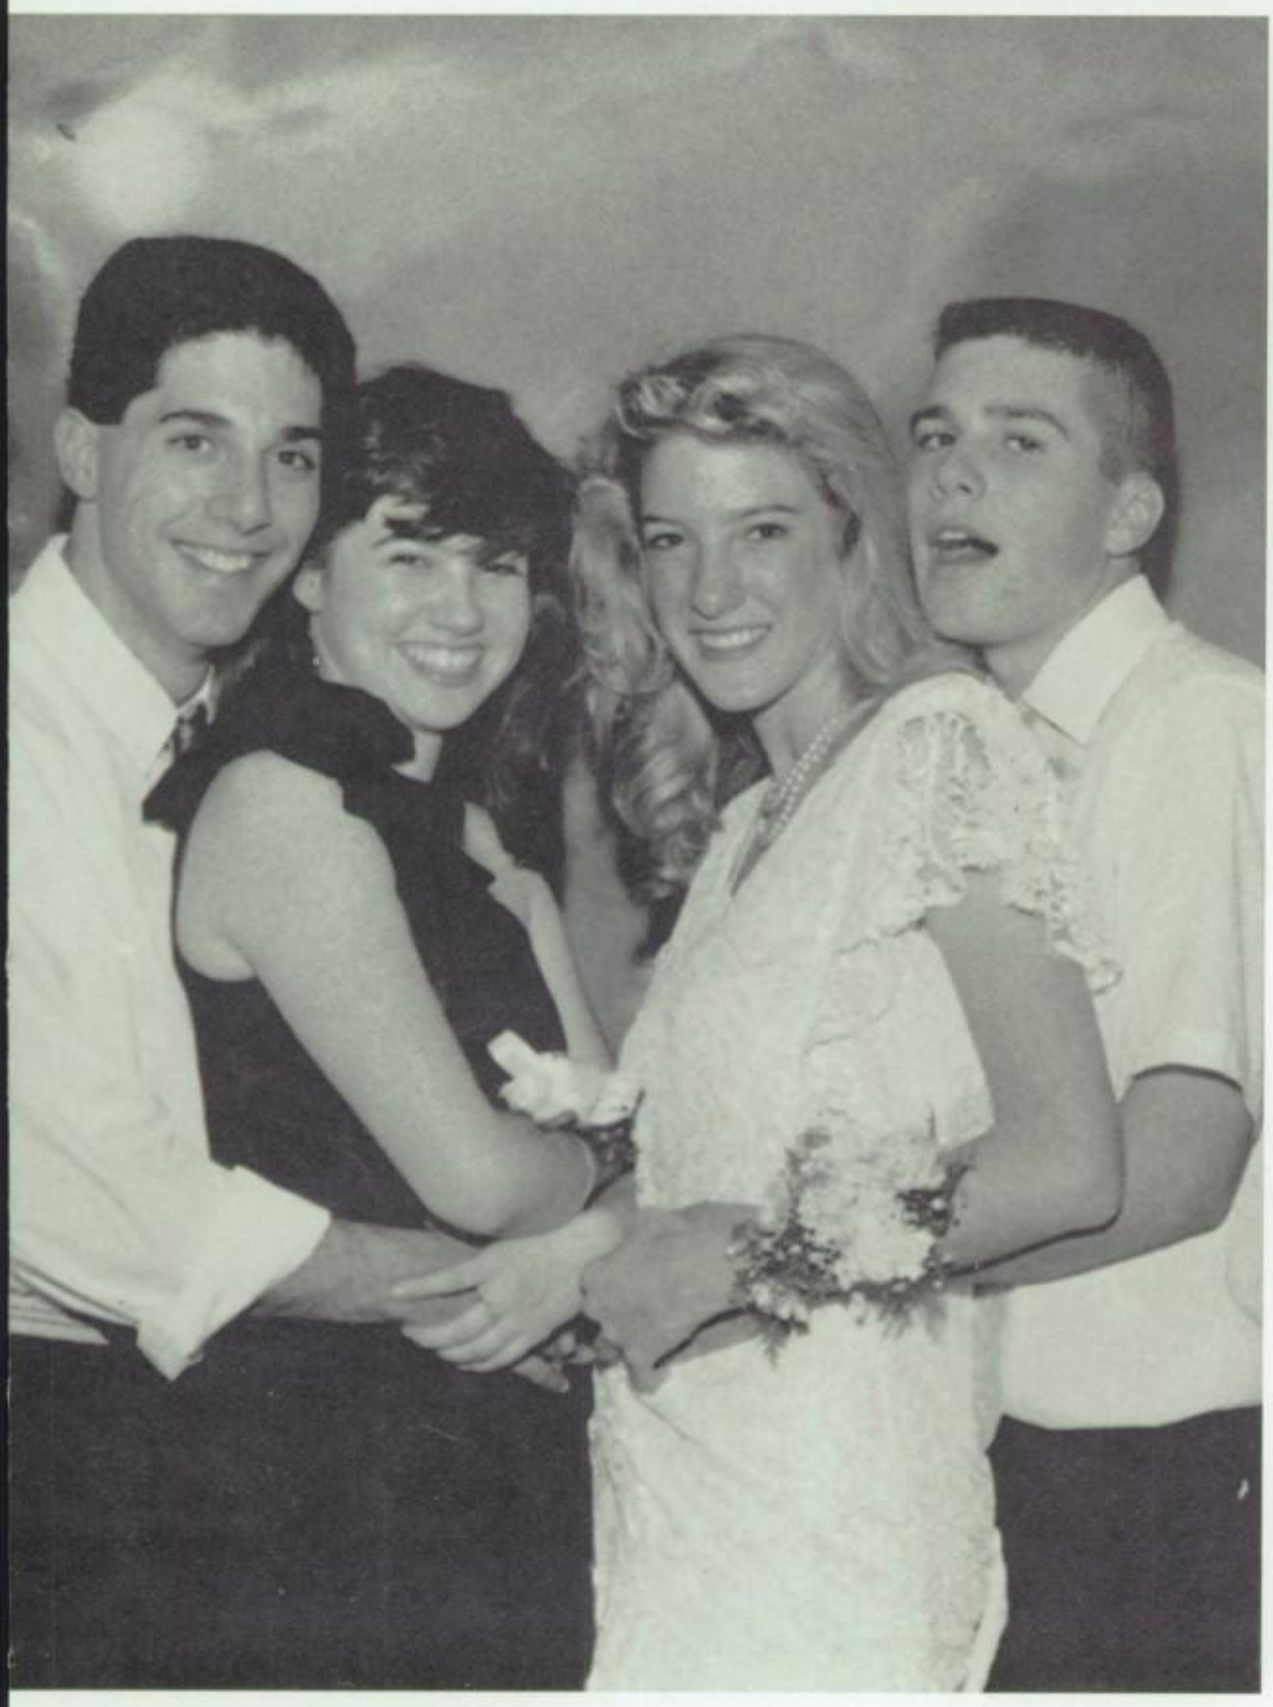
Where is Brian?

Couples are dancing the night away all over the hall.

Yes, we are taking your picture.

When they are not holding each other on the dance floor, they are holding each other at their table.

Here are Stan, Jason, and their dates getting down.

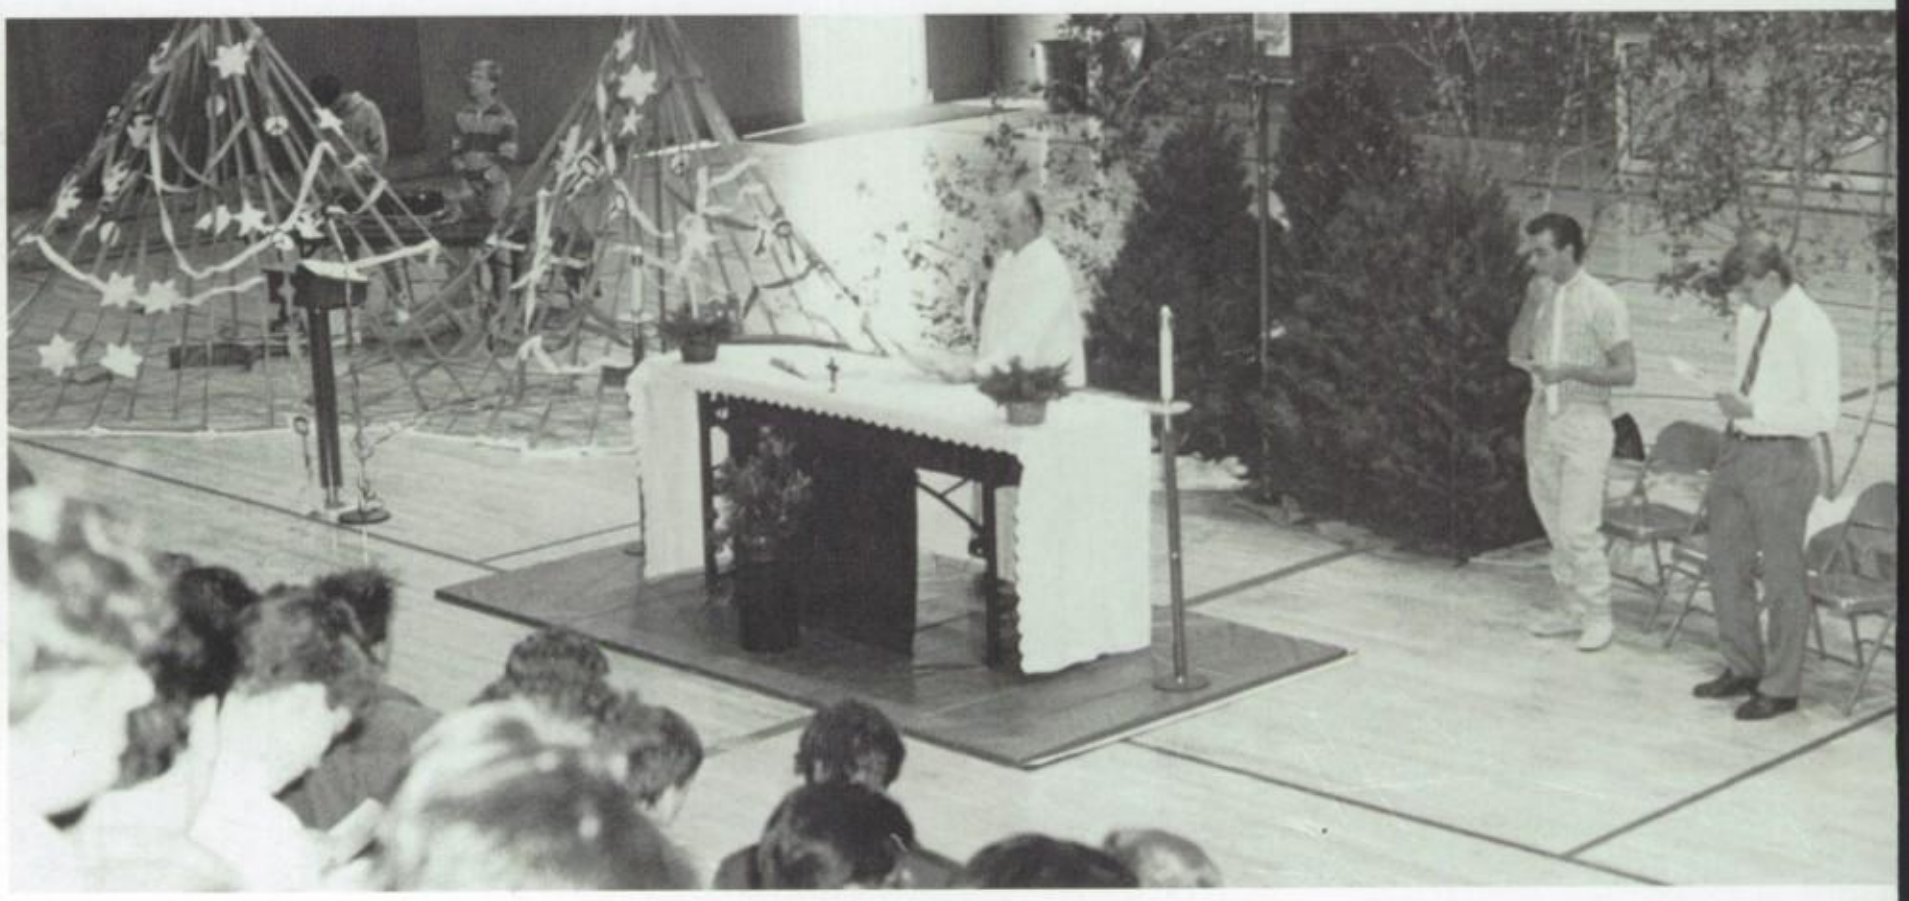


They are giving their best pose for the photographer.

Who needs a date if you can be in the yearbook?

BRINGING MESSAGES OF PEACE

The Offertory gifts at the Christmas Mass were reminders of the gifts each class is to the Student Body. A puzzle was brought forward to represent the change of the Freshman Class from being individuals to a close-knit class. A mirror showed the growth of the Sophomores as they changed right in front of our eyes. The key of peace shows the growing responsibility the Juniors have as upper-classmen. The Bible represented the Seniors as role models trying to live according to its teachings.



For each mass, students display their varied talents in design, unique decorations and artistic themes in transforming the gym into a place of worship.

All the members of the school community participate in the liturgy. Mrs. Ossman and Bro. De Sales are part of the 20 member choir.

Sound technician Scott Campbell works to prepare for the Christmas service.

Mr. Antonisamy directs musicians and choir for the Christmas Liturgy.

Cheech, Ron and Kevin lead the opening procession.

The "Sanctus" is sung by Alex, Jason and Vatche.

The celebrant, Fr. Dan McSweeney, opens the Christmas service.

"REAL" SNOW AFTER ALL

Charles Cherniss, Editor of Pasadena's Star News, lamented in his column that friends were teasing him because he had predicted a Pasadena snowfall that didn't materialize. The Centurion staff sent him pictures taken during ABC's filming of "Elvis & Me" mini-series and he wrote: "It did snow in Pasadena . . . these pictures were taken in the courtyard of La Salle and the snow stayed on the ground through Monday and students were able to lob a few snowballs at one another. . . . A few may discount snow trucked in by ABC for their upcoming mini-series . . . but I've always known there was something special about La Salle!"

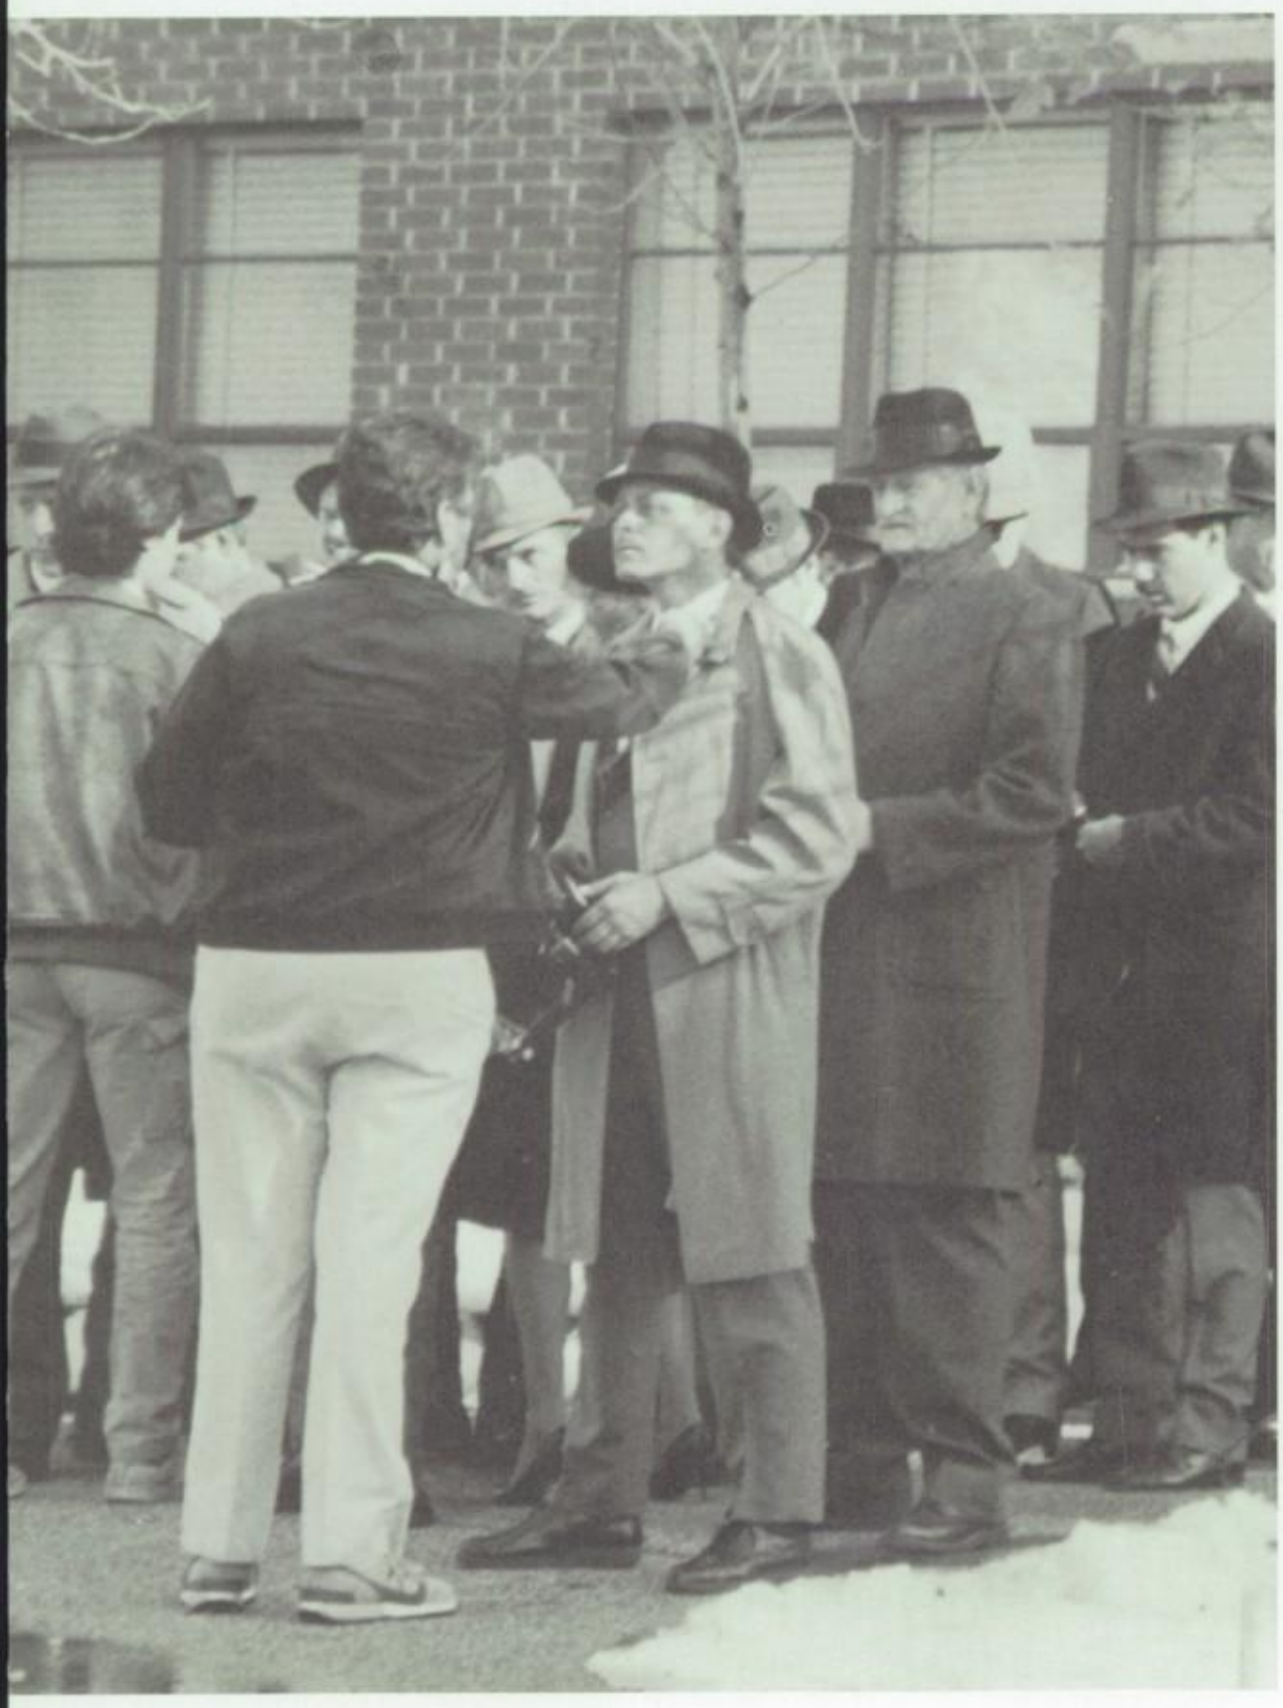
La Salle - coed?? and a "snow covered" court??

A coed at the American school in Germany gets a touch up on her make-up.

Press photographer, circa 1960's, waits for the "action" call.

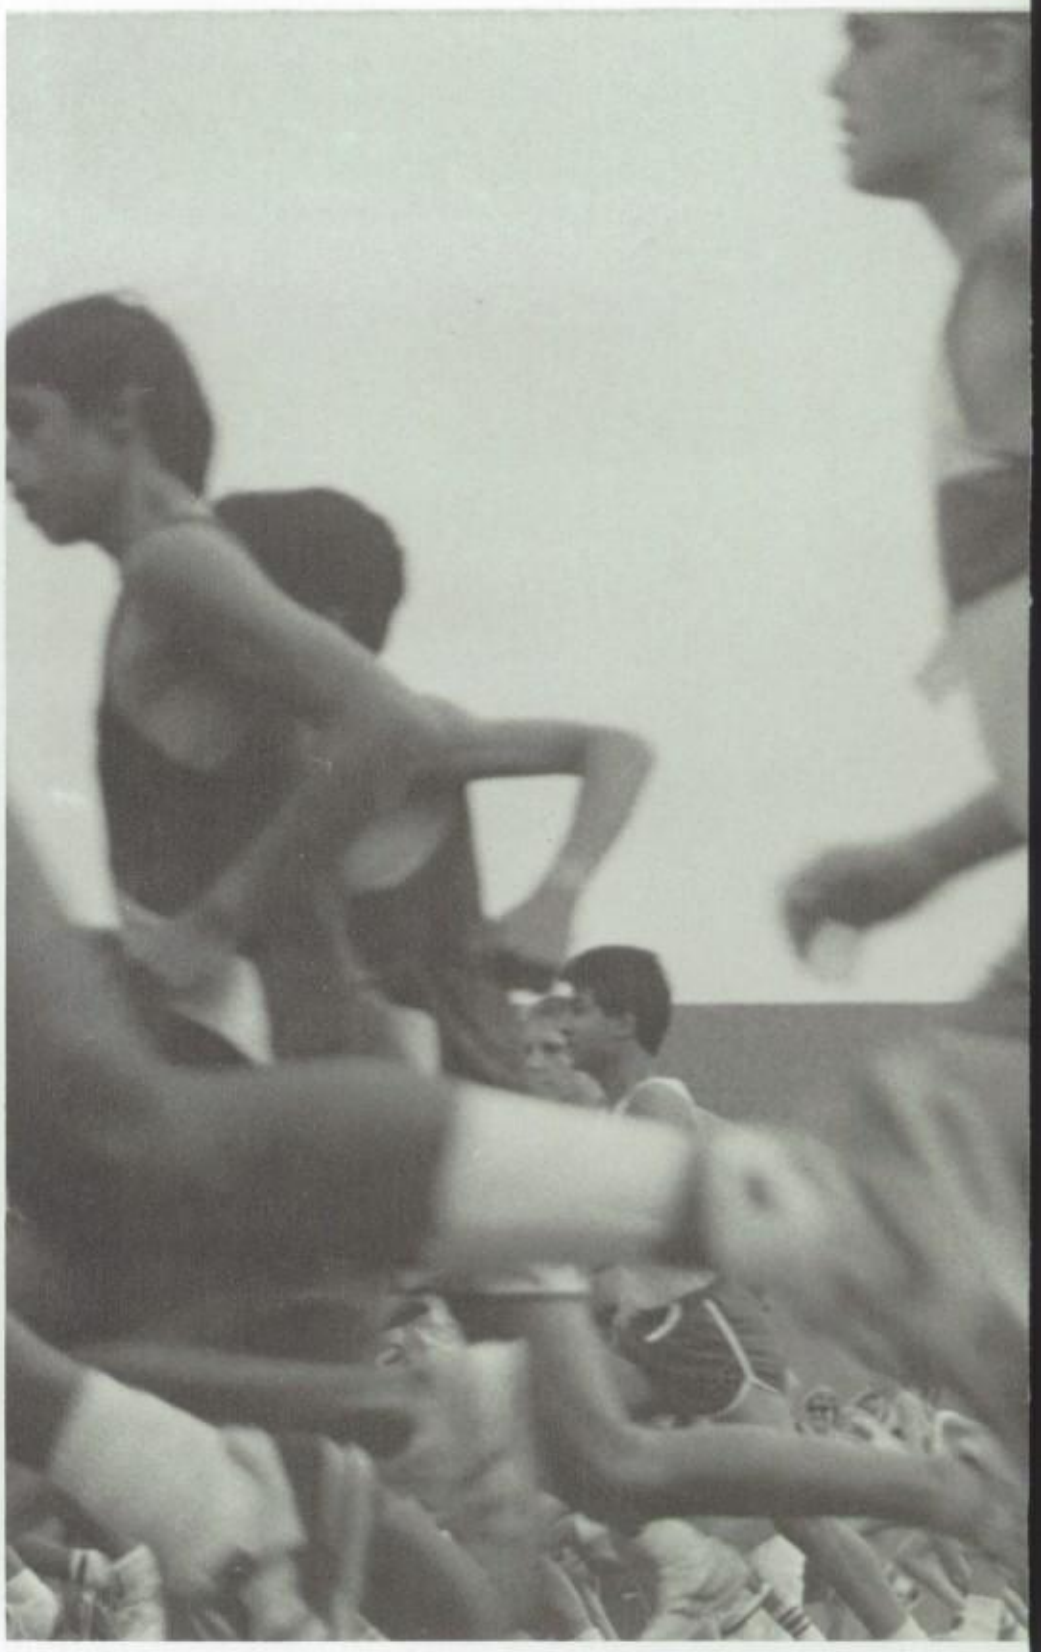
"Lights - camera - action" as movie's press photographers rush students for an on-the-scene report.

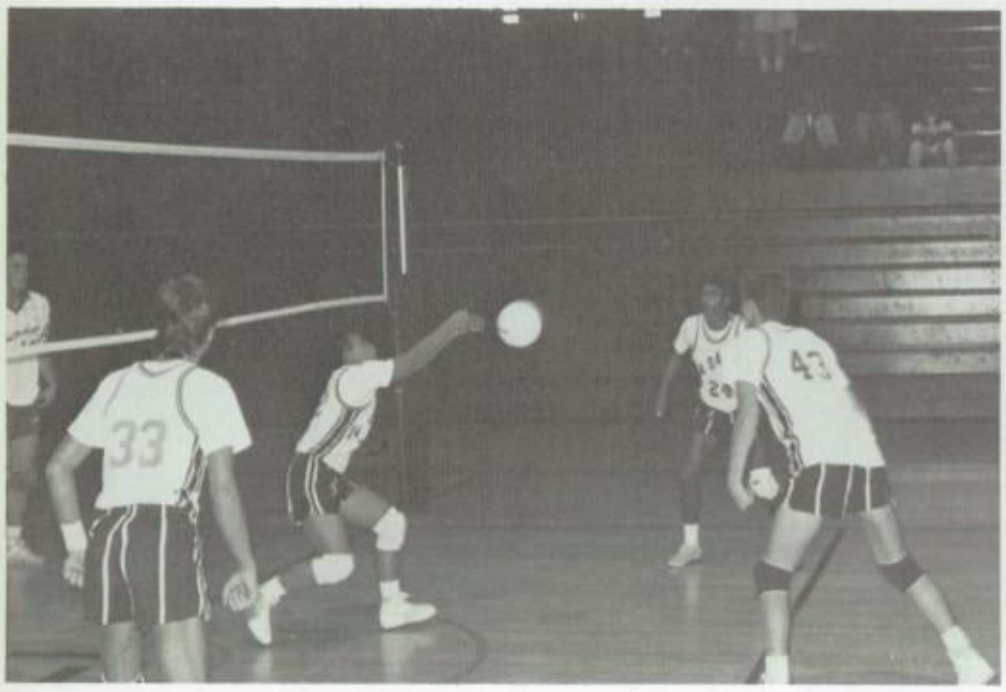
So that's how they do it! Proof-positive that snow did fall in the La Salle court-yard!



Extras line up as director gives last minute instructions.

"A view from the top." Lots of equipment is necessary for the filming of a major network mini-series.





SPORTS

Without a doubt, sport events are the main attraction throughout the year. Participation of both players and spectators has increased this year. One student nearby our school actually claimed that he could hear the cheers of the spectators during one basketball game from his house. Evidently, the support of the student body and faculty staff contributed to the teams' victories.

Even though many valuable coaches departed their posts at La Salle, they are replaced by new ones with equal competence. Mr. Tom Cano, the new coach of Cross Country, did wonders with the team and gained the championship title of the league. This is all due to their hard work since last summer. The coaches of the soccer teams are new additions to the La Salle family — Mr. Brian Wiesner, first year with the Varsity and Mr. Richard Manning with the J.V. and Frosh. The Varsity Basketball team, led by Mr. John Matheus, dazzled us with their late season victories. J.V. and Frosh, coached by Mr. Derek Jones and Mr. Bill Fleckenstein, respectively, proved to be promising. Varsity Water Polo was the league champ, as usual; while J.V. exhibited their "sea power" effectively.

Six sports sprang up with the beginning of second semester. Track consisted of the most athletes of all other teams. The swimmers had proven that the Lancers are as good on land as they are in water. Mr. McNamara took over the racket this year as he led the tennis teams to another year of success. Baseball players could be seen practicing everyday after school on the field. Their hard work paid off. Volleyball is the newest sport at La Salle, but the players aren't amateurs. The Golf players swung their clubs and teed off to another dazzling season.

League Champs . . . Cross Country

This year's Cross Country teams have achieved something that most team members had never expected in the beginning of their season. Varsity tied the first place in league and J.V. took the fourth. Mr. Cano, who has just taken over the coaching role this year, said that next year's team shall be more promising and may even go all the way to bring a new banner back for the gymnasium. The frontrunners of Varsity Cross Country are Kevin Delaney (Hall of Fame), Vince Garciano (MVP), Aron Miller (Most Improved) and Ed Garciano (Most Inspirational), followed by Marino Napuri, Mark Nunez, Kevin Pirih, Mike Rysdon, Ken Villarruel. Alex Wagner serves as the manager of the Varsity team. J.V. consisted of Jarrod Clark, Brian Esquivel, Steve Otroshkin, J.J. Pena, David Soltis and Merv Washington.

CLUBS

No one can live on books alone. Therefore, each student is encouraged to participate in extracurricular activities. The school provides many opportunities for everyone to enrich his high school life. Each different organization gives each student a break from the academic study.

There are many areas students can dazzle in. There are those for the politically-conscious — ASB, Student Body; intellectually-stimulated — Science Club, Computer Club; Journalistically-talented — Visions, Lance, Centurion; Musically-inclined — Pep Band, Guitar Club; academically-excellent — NHS, CSF; and more.

Each student is free to participate any organization he is interested in to broaden his horizons. New clubs can also be established by interested students and faculty members, like the Gaming Club and Filming Club. They are more than fun or enjoyable. One can learn from the experience of exploring new horizons and associating with other people outside the classrooms. It is also a great way to make friends. That is why La Salle encourages everyone to take up at least one extra-curricular activity.

A.S.B. LEADERS

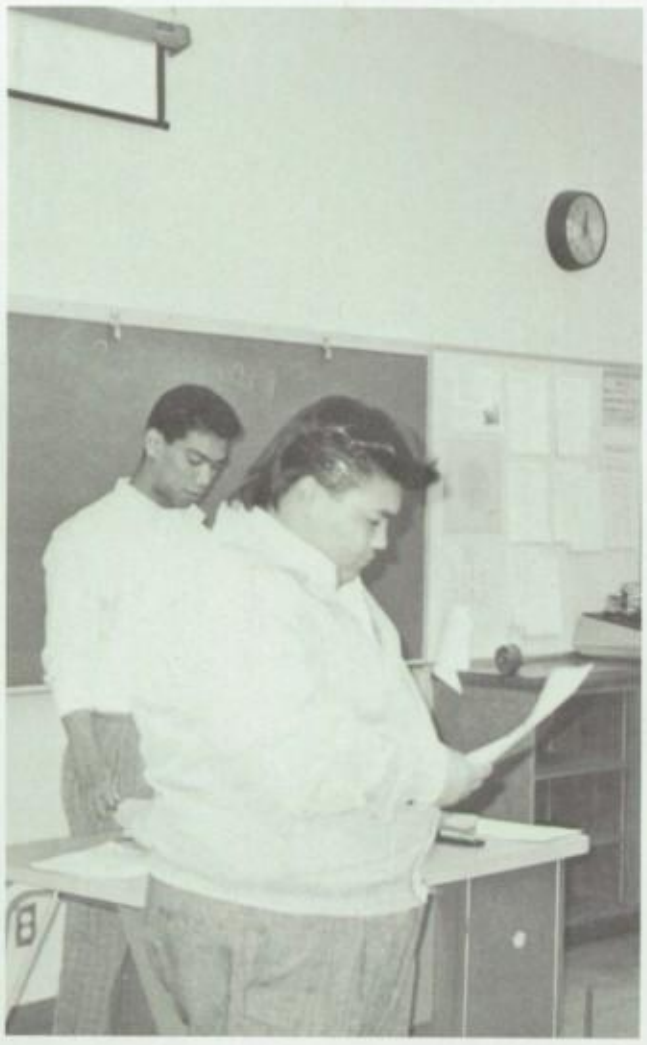
The Associated Student Body (ASB) Officers are elected in the ASB Convention. Along with the Student Council, the ASB sets up and sponsors many activities throughout the school year.

President Ed Malicdem is shown here emceeing one of the several Pep Rallies the ASB has traditionally planned.

Along with Br. Patrick, relaxing in their office, are Secretary Ricky Ravelo, Treasurer Stan Oliai, President Ed Malicdem, Vice President Brian Richards, and Commissioner of Publicity Adam Alcorn.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Like our own democratic government, each member of the class elects his class president, vice president, treasurer, and representatives who will speak for the whole class in student council meetings. They are also responsible for planning and coordinating a host of activities, such as dances, assemblies, intramural sports and Freshmen Orientation.



Freshman President Brian Elwell is making a proposition to the Student Council.

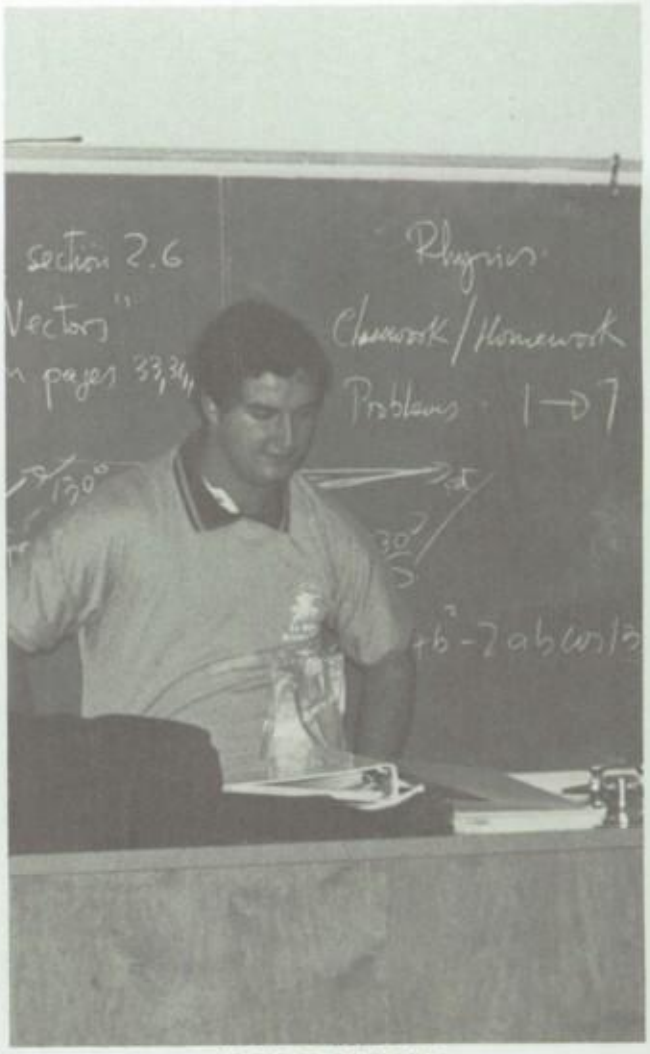
SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club has developed into a major organization during its fourth year of existence. It has about 20 members, with Senior Doug Gamble as President and Mr. Arribas as its moderator. Together, they organize every event of the club, from bake sales to field trips to Magic Mountain and Sea World.



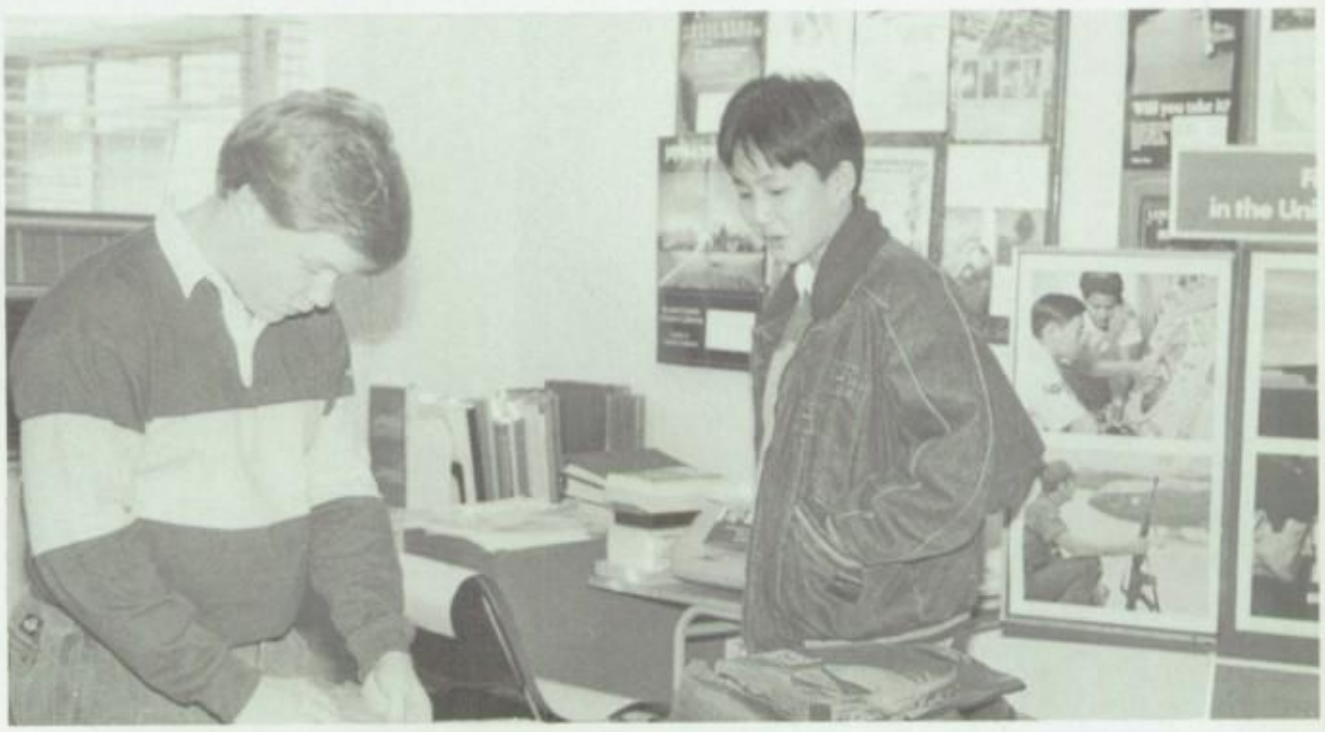
DOUG GAMBLE
President, Doug Gamble, conducts lunchtime meeting. Members enjoy challenges of special projects like the one shown at the left.

From serious to silly, Science Club members show their diversity. In addition to the monthly meetings at school, the club has organized several field trips.

GAMING CLUB

The Gaming Club was formed in the Freshman year of these La Salle students. Their main goal was to support and encourage the playing of boardgames. They originally began with games such as Dungeons and Dragons, then branched out to include all board games. Moderated by Brother De Sales, the Gaming Club meets once a week after school in his office to absorb themselves in their fantasy realm.

Club president Alex Wagner goes over the rules of the game with fellow sophomore, Owen Hou.



Members include, Andy Lau, Marcus Silvio, Alex Wagner, Owen Hau, Edward Farrell, and Brian Fung-You-Kee.

CHESS CLUB

The members of the Chess Club are students who enjoy playing chess and engaging in chess tournaments. Many of them spend their lunch time in the Biology Room competing with each other to enhance their skills.

Anton makes his move with coaching from fellow chess players.

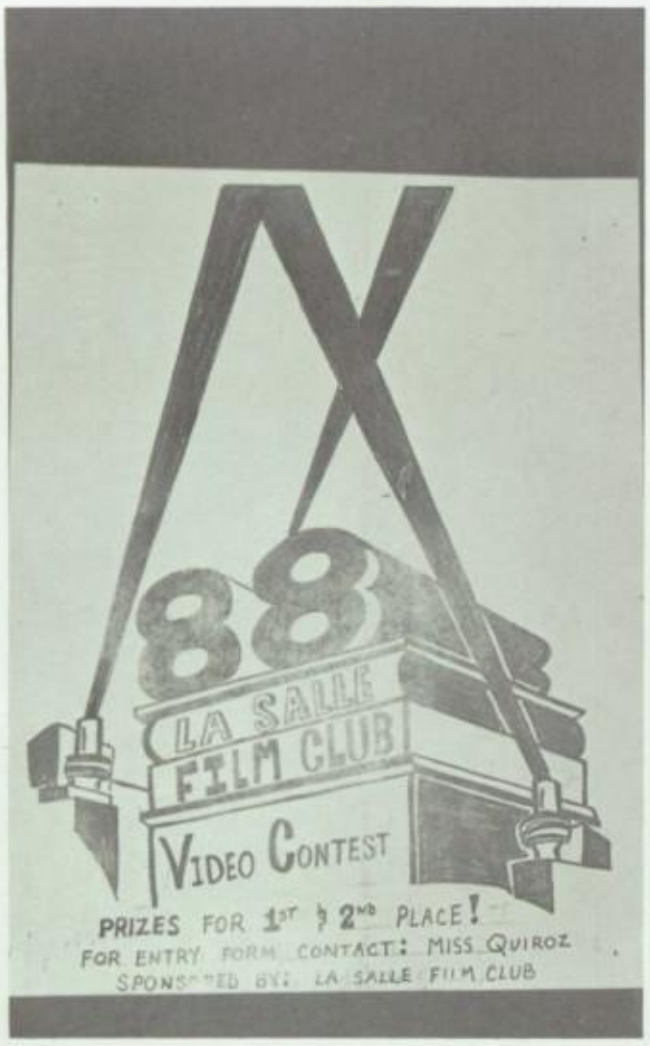
FILM CLUB

La Salle Film Club members are devoted to the art of filmmaking. Besides writing, producing, directing, and acting in their own films, the members of the club enjoy discussing filming techniques and current and classic movies. Ms. Quiroz is the moderator of the club, and David Sewell is its president.



One of the events sponsored by the Film Club is the Video Contest.

SPIRIT SPARKERS-PEP BAND

The Pep Band, led by Bandleader Joe Antonisamy, includes all members of the Advanced Band. They appear in every Home Varsity Basketball Game to promote spirit. The presence of these talented musicians at basketball games has become a tradition. Each song is specially chosen to generate spirit among the spectators.

Mr. Antonisamy not only has built a great band program at La Salle, but enthusiastically helped the spirit of our sports program.

The Pep Band, Advanced Band in disguise, plays rousing renditions of specially selected numbers to generate spirit at Pep Rallies, as well as playing for home basketball games. The Pep Band is a volunteer activity for the talented musicians.

GUITAR CLUB

Guitar Club was one of the few organizations established by a student, in this case, Arthur Przebinda. With the help of Mr. Brian McNamara, moderator of the club, the Guitar Club had become one of the most noticeable organizations. The club is open to those who are interested in music and especially in playing a stringed instrument.

President Art Przebinda is shown here showing his abilities with the guitar to other members of the club.

CENTURION

This year, the Centurion managed to beat the impossible deadlines and finish Volume 29 on time. Moderator Mrs. MacCaul supervised the staff, including Editors Eric Wat, Assistants David Rodriguez and Anton Leung, and Business Manager Brian Klotz. Along with other members, they met almost everyday after school.

Editor Eric Wat and Moderator Mrs. Mac Caul discuss some of the problems they faced with so few on staff.

Producing a yearbook is a lengthy process, involving many people and much hard work. The staff is constantly exhibiting its journalistic talents in designing layouts, writing copy and choosing from the numerous pictures diligently taken by the Photography staff. Operating under a limited budget, Centurion staff has done its best to continue its excellence in La Salle journalism.

ADS

In our yearly ad drive, the earnings for this year's campaign were less than dazzling, but it did pick up. Although we fell slightly short of our goal, the money raised did help subsidize this year's production costs. Knowing that our funds were well spent, we proceeded to give you, the student, as much "dazzle" as possible, because you earned it! The Business Manager and staff would like to personally thank you students who showed initiative and those advertisers whose money was well spent in purchasing an ad. We also encourage students to patronize our advertisers.

NICK

You have no pens in your house that work. Thanks for saving this entire page just for me.
I don't know why I'm signing this. Maybe it's because I'm bored. It's been a "memorable" year, huh? We've all had some pretty fun times. Some pretty good blackmail material for all of us, (yes - EVEN you, NICK - LIZ LOVER - J/K you know I love you) some cool parties, & some pretty intense Alvarno/LaSalle political, liberalism vs conservatism ~~debates~~... discussions. It's been a challenge, but I guess we have to admit that we've become pretty good friends, and I'm glad. (Who said that?)
Anyways, believe it or not, I'm going to miss you next year, driving your car, sssssssssssssssss keys to the library & softball games, but most of all, I'm going to miss you giving me shit all the time! Just kidding. It's going to be hard not seeing you as much next year, but I know you'll succeed. You've got what it takes, NICK. I've always admired your ~~(illegible)~~ sense of everything. You're pretty sharp, there, Bud. Good luck! I'll be seeing you in your DECO DORM next year. See ya love,

Les
